Sole Survivor Of Air Crash Tells Of Quiet

26 Are Killed In Crackup Of Missing Plane In Virginia

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — "Things were all quiet, no moans, no groans."

This was the way a 33-year-old union official described the aftermath of a crunching impact against a Virginia mountainside in which 26 persons aboard a twin-engine airliner lost ther lives. He alone survived.

"I yelled to see if anyone else was alive, but no one answered," said E. Phil Bradley of Clifton Forge, Va., as he told of his 36-hour ordeal in the wilderness following the crash of the Piedmont Airlines DC3 Friday night.

He suffered a dislocated hip and minor cuts.

Within a few hours after Bradley was taken to a Charlottesville hospital Sunday, 26 bodies, wrapped in tarpaulins, were laboriously carried to the summit of Bucks Elbow Mountain near Virginia's famed Skyline Drive.

Bradley, who said he noticed his watch showed 8:40 p.m. moments after the crash, was first reached at the wreck scene by Air Force Sgt. John Weis of Pittsburgh.

"I was damned glad to see him," Bradley said.

The plane, en route from Washington to Roanoke, Va., was last heard from at 8:24 p. m. Friday, when the pilot requested landing instructions at Charlottesville.

The wreckage 18 miles west of Charlottesville was not sighted until 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

Bradley said the pilot never gave any indication there was anything wrong.

Of the actual crash, it "sounded like the roaring of an ocean," he said. "The only sensation was the wings cutting the tops of trees."

Thomas H. David, president of Piedmont Airlines, which, until Friday, had flown 667 million passenger miles without a crash fatality, said "several weeks will perhaps be required" to finish an exhaustive investigation.

ONLY SURVIVOR. E. Phillip Bradley, 33, of Clifton Forge, Va., sole survivor of the crash of a Piedmont Airlines DC-3 in the Blue Ridge Mountains Friday, rests in the University of Virginia Hospital following his rescue from the 36-hour ordeal. Rescuers found Bradley in the strewn wreckage of the plane in which 23 other passengers and three crew members lost their lives. (UPI Telephoto)

Nehru Declares Steps Taken To Meet Threat

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru says his government is taking all necessary steps to meet the Chinese threat along the border. He rejects suggestions India change its neutralist foreign policy.

"China may be a big country but India is not small," he told 50,000 followers at a rally of his ruling Congress party Sunday. "We are not afraid. We are not weak. If our national security is challenged, it (the challenge) will be met."

Ben-Gurion's Party Favored In Israel Vote

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion's Mapai party is favored to lead in the Israeli parliamentary elections Tuesday, but he almost certainly will need outside support again to form another government.

The moderately Socialist Mapai has little chance of gaining a clear majority in the 120-seat Knesset —Parliament. There are 24 parties in the race.

Steel Peace Talks Shift To Washington

High Court Ruling Waited Tuesday On Strike Injunction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators stepped back full force into the steel strike picture today, shifting the deadlocked talks here a day before the Supreme Court hears arguments involving the dispute.

But there was nothing to indicate agreement would come quicker here than at New York or Pittsburgh, where negotiators in the 111-day-old strike have held long and largely futile sessions.

One steelman who has signed with the union predicted Sunday the two sides eventually will agree on an economic package close to that he negotiated. But Edgar F. Kaiser did not predict when it would come.

As board chairman of the Kaiser Steel Corp., Kaiser agreed last week to a 20-month contract with the United Steelworkers Union. He estimated its cost at 19½ cents hourly per man, not counting a cost of living rise that could add as much as three cents.

"The final agreement," Kaiser said on a television program, "will be close to the economic package we offered. The contract language, I don't know. It may be a much deeper issue."

One of the biggest obstacles to agreement has been the companies' insistence on contract changes which would give them more leeway in changing working rules. The union strongly opposes this.

The companies have rejected a money proposal similar to that Kaiser agreed to. They estimated its costs at 32½ cents an hour.

The latest series of meetings ended last week in Pittsburgh. Union President David J. Mc-

Ohio To Vote Tuesday On 2 Amendments

Couple Of Lawsuits Challenging Place On Ballot Pending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans apparently will vote on two constitutional amendments Tuesday, but what happens after that remains a question.

A couple of lawsuits challenging the presence of the two issues on the ballot still are pending. There is a possibility the amendment could lose out in the courts even if they are approved by the voters.

The amendments would allow additional judges for appellate courts where the work load is exceptionally heavy and remove restrictions on cities sale of water and sewer services outside their corporate limits.

Paul E. Gilday, Cincinnati attorney, has asked Franklin County Common Pleas Court to prevent Secretary of State Ted W. Brown from counting and certifying the vote on both issues.

Failure of the court to issue a restraining order apparently will permit Brown to count the vote. It still would be possible, though, for the court to prohibit him from certifying the official vote. That is the necessary official act to put

1st Snowfall Reported In Calcutta, Salineville

The first snowfall of the approaching winter was recorded this morning in Calcutta and Salineville.

Calcutta residents reported snow was falling "at a good rate" about 10 a. m., but was melting as it struck the ground.

At Salineville, residents reported a five-minute flurry about the same time.

Sunny Skies Forecast On Election Day

152 Polling Centers Throughout County Open At 6:30 A.M.

The Ohio weatherman today issued a forecast of sunny, warm weather Tuesday, which may help produce the expected turnout of 30,000 tomorrow when Columbiana County goes to the polls in an off-year election.

Columbiana County's 152 polling places will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m.

New Location Listed For 1-F Voting Place

The County Election Board today called attention of voters in Precinct 1-F to a change in their precinct polling place.

The polling place will be in the Ferello Building at Mulberry St. and Pennsylvania Ave., in a storeroom occupied by the Putt Furniture Co. It formerly was located in the Hattie Powell residence on 1st Ave.

The change means there will be two polling places on Mulberry St. Voters in 1-C use the Louis-James Clothing Store, 539 Mulberry St.

The election will mark the second trial run of voting machines in East Palestine and Lisbon. The two communities also used the machines on a trial basis at the May primaries.

Voters will name new officials for cities, villages, townships and school districts. They also will decide the fate of 32 special questions and issues — mainly operating levies and bond issues proposed by local subdivisions.

In East Liverpool, every city office will be at stake. Voters also will fill three seats on the Board of Education and elect a Municipal Court judge. The city has 10,721 qualified electors.

Here are the polling places in East Liverpool and Liverpool and St. Clair Townships. In several cases, a single building will serve as the polling place for more than one precinct.

To Pave Way For Talks With Soviet

Western Summit Meeting Set For Paris On Dec. 19

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and the heads of Britain, France and West Germany will meet in Paris Dec. 19 to work out a solid Western stand for talks with the Soviet Union.

Agreement on the date and place of the meeting was announced in the four capitals Sunday. The White House said Eisenhower will return here in time to spend Christmas with his family.

Prime subjects for discussion at the Paris meeting appeared to be:

1. When do the leaders meet with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in a summit conference?

2. On that isses, if any, will they compromise in negotiations with him?

Reports from London said that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will go to Paris determined that the summit conference with Khrushchev be held in January or February. President Charles de Gaulle of France has insisted that the conference be delayed until spring, at the earliest. It is believed Eisenhower leans toward Macmillan's position.

On the second question, observers believe Macmillan is willing to make concessions to Khrushchev, settling the Berlin issue before reaching an agreement on German unity. But De Gaulle feels that the Soviets are responsible for the crises in the world. He believes that if there are concessions to be made, the Soviets must make them. Past statements of Eisenhower indicate he tends to agree with De Gaulle on this issue.

The fourth leader, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, will not attend the summit conference with Khrushchev.

The Western summit meeting will follow by only a couple of days a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council Dec. 15-17.

Thief Breaks Store Window, Gets Watches

Loss Fixed At $285 In Second Burglary With Same Pattern

Using the same "MO" that was used in another jewelry theft last week, a thief smashed the window of a downtown jewelry store early this morning and fled with five watches valued at $285.50, police reported.

The quick-working thief escaped with the watches after using a brick to smash a large display window at the Shaw Jewelry Co., 513 Washington St., fleeing as a burglary alarm sounded.

A thief also made off with $25 to $30 after breaking into a nearby tavern over the weekend and windows at two other business places were broken, police said.

Police were notified of the Shaw burgiary a few minutes before 3 a. m. and quickly dispatched two cruisers. Officers searched the surrounding area, but were unable to locate the thief.

Mrs. Bertha Kaufman, manager, told police the loot included two 21-jewel watches valued at $57.50 and $49.50, two Fifth Ave. models and an Ambassador model, each valued at $59.59.

Police said the manager was unable to determine immediately whether the watches were for men or women. A check also was to be made today to determine if anything else was taken, officers said.

The 48-x-60-inch window was broken at 2:56 a. m. Police were notified by George Smartz, night watchman at the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store, who heard the burglary alarm sound.

Patrolman C. E. (Bill) Tice and Patrolman Paul Carter answered the radio call in cruisers and were dispatched by Lt. Michael Winters to search the surrounding neighborhood in an attempt to locate the thief.

Police said the theft was very similar to the burglary early last Tuesday when a thief used a building brick to break a display window at the James Locke jewelry store, 211 E. 5th St., less than a block from today's theft.

85 Windows Smashed In Westgate Vandalism

Vandals caused extensive damage at Westgate School over the weekend and also smashed two windows at Lincoln School, police were advised today.

Officers said 85 glass block windows at the big elementary and junior high school on W. 8th St. were broken, along with a 32-x-38 inch window, sometime Sunday night.

A dome light at the southwest corner of the building was smashed and the vandals overturned a fire extinguisher, allowing the contents to flow over the floor, police said. Police said school authorities indicated nothing was taken.

At Lincoln School, rocks were thrown through two 12x22½-inch windows, police were told today. The vandalism occurred between 4:30 p. m. Friday and 7:30 a. m. today, officers were told.

Ike Appoints Merchant To High Position

WASHINGTON (AP)—Over the years, Livingston T. Merchant has acquired the reputation of a hard working civil servant on whom you can rely to get a job done.

Now it's paying off with his elevation to the No. 3 job in the State Department. President Eisenhower picked Merchant Saturday to become undersecretary for political affairs when Robert D. Murphy retires next month. He has been Murphy's deputy.

Merchant has been a top staff man at several recent international conferences. He stood out during the 1955 summit conference at Geneva, where he generally was considered the man on whom Eisenhower and the late John Foster Dulles relied most for counsel.

Merchant started late in State Department service, but has few peers in all-around experience. A financier before entering government service during World War II, Merchant has had assignments covering Europe, the Far East and Canada.

A descendant of America's second secretary of the Treasury, Oliver Wolcott, and of General William Floyd, signer of the Declaration of Independence, Merchant was born in New York City on Nov. 23, 1903.

After graduating from Princeton University in 1926, Merchant had a career as an investment counselor and financier before joining the State Department in 1942. His first job there was assistant chief of the division of defense materials.

Nation's Population Put At 178,804,190

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated the nation's population at 178,804,190 as of 8 a.m. today.

This was the calculation made for the bureau's "census clock," a counting device installed in the department lobby. The clock's figures change minute by minute to reflect the steady population growth.

On Jan. 1, the estimated population was 175,602,000. Part of the increase since then represents statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, which have combined populations of about 750,000.

U.S. Tries To Stop Unauthorized Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying to stop all unauthorized flights from Florida to Cuba by stationing immigration officers at the state's 200 airports.

This new program, announced by the Justice Department Sunday came after charges by Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba that private planes, based in Florida, had flown over Havana, dropping leaflets and bombs.

Rites Planned For Victim Of County Crash

Leetonia Resident Employed At Newell Killed In Collision

County 1959 Traffic Toll
25 KILLED
This date in 1958—19 killed!
TAKE YOUR TIME IN '59

A Leetonia man, employed by a Newell asphalt concern, was killed and a Leetonia area couple was injured in two weekend traffic crashes reported by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Services will be held Tuesday for Harry Richard Bruderly, 34, of 129 Main St., Leetonia, who died in the wreckage of his car which veered off the Lisbon - Leetonia Rd. and crashed into a utility pole shortly before noon Saturday. He was employed by the River Asphalt Co. of Newell.

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Vankirk of Leetonia R. D. 1 were injured early Sunday morning when their car swerved into the rear of a passing tractor - trailer truck on Route 14 at Firestone Hill, about a mile east of the intersection with Route 7.

Mr. Bruderly, father of five children, was trapped in the demolished auto for 90 minutes. He was declared dead at Salem City Hospital of chest and head injuries.

The car snapped a utility pole at the site — about two miles south of Leetonia — halting service in the village and area for about two hours. A natural gas line meter also was broken in the crash and escaping gas covered the area until workmen turned off the supply.

Mr. Bruderly was traveling along a straight section of the rainswept road when the car skidded off the right side of the highway. The death marked the 25th in Columbiana County this year compared to 19 at this time in 1958.

A veteran of World War II, he was born at Salem Sept. 13, 1925, a son, of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Bruderly. Besides his parents, of Washingtonville, and his widow, he is survived by three sons and two daughters, all at home, and a brother, Kenneth Bruderly of Salem.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Woods Funeral Home with the Rev. Drury Benton of the Greenford Christian Church in charge. Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Mr. and Mrs. Vankirk are in "fair" condition at Salem City Hospital with injuries received in the collision between their car and the tractor-trailer truck driven by Max A. Inhoff, 34, of Peru, Ind.

Officers said Vankirk, headed west, went left of center and his car rammed the rear tandem wheels of the eastbound rig, loaded with eggs.

The crash ripped the side of the car, tearing off the left front door. Vankirk suffered cuts of the chin, possible fractures and internal injuries. His wife was admitted for

Mannerisms Coached, He Also Admits

Confesses He Gave False Testimony To Jury In 1958

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Charles Van Doren testified today he was given answers, and even given a regular script to memorize, when he appeared on the supposedly unrehearsed "Twenty-One" television quiz program. He said he was coached in mannerisms too.

Van Doren admitted he testified falsely last year before the New York grand jury investigating the quiz programs.

He told the House investigating subcommittee "I was deeply involved in a deception."

Van Doren said he would give anything to reverse the course of his life since his big-money quiz performance three years ago.

Van Doren named Albert Freedman, producer of the show, as the man who persuaded him to cooperate in rigging the show and then coached him.

A telling argument Freedman used, Van Doren said, was that as the scion of a famous literary family and a member of the Columbia University faculty, Van Doren would "increase public respect for the intellectual life, for the teaching profession" by making a good showing.

He said Freedman also told him "it was all entertainment" and coaching of contestants was routine.

"Perhaps I wanted to believe it," Van Doren told the committee. "Foolishly and wrongly I persuaded myself it was all true."

Van Doren appeared before a packed audience with crowds waiting outside. This time his questions and answers were not televised, since such broadcasts are prohibited by House rules.

Van Doren started his testimony with a prepared statement telling how he was coached and given answers. He admitted he testified falsely before the New York grand jury.

Van Doren said he stood by on the Twenty-One program for several weeks without actually appearing. Finally, he said, Freedman summoned him to his apartment and took him into a bedroom.

The producer told him, Van Doren went on, that Herbert Stempel, then the "champion" on the Twenty-One show, was unbeatable but that he was not an attractive contestant. He asked Van Doren, the witness continued, if he would agree to an arrangement under which he would tie Stempel and add to the entertainment value of the program.

Stempel was a major witness earlier before the subcommittee and the New York grand jury. He testified he was given answers and thoroughly coached for his Twenty-One appearances.

Van Doren said he pleaded to be allowed to compete honestly, but was persuaded otherwise.

At first, he said, Freedman guaranteed him $1,000 winnings for appearing on one show. Ultimately Van Doren won $129,000.

After his Twenty-One career he signed a $50,000 a year contract with the National Broadcasting Co. Since the question of his being in on rigged TV shows arose he has been suspended from that job.

It took Van Doren about half an

3 Small Daughters Of Doctor Die In Fire

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A doctor's three small daughters burned to death Sunday when a fire which firemen think was started by a candle in a jack-o-lantern destroyed their home.

Fire investigators sifted the ruins of the $50,000 home of Dr. Bryan Forister for clues to the cause of the blaze which killed Brenda, 6, Leasa Rader, 5, and Patricia, 2.

The jack-o-lantern left in a chair near the window drew the immediate blame. "I figure the candle caught the drapes on fire," said investigator B.A. Cook.

Drivers Given Jail Sentence In City's Court

Two motorists accused of drunken driving were fined and jailed today after hearings in Municipal Court while four other drivers were fined and five forfeited bonds on other traffic charges.

Robert W. Wetzel of Warren, arrested Saturday afternoon in the Diamond, was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail on the drunk driving charge.

Judge George L. Brokaw also fined Wetzel and additional $25 and costs for driving without an operator's permit.

Charles W. Davis of LaCroft Ave. drew a similar fine and jail term along with revocation of his driver's license for six months on a drunk driving charge. He was cited Saturday at 8:39 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Virgil Martin, 455 1st Ave., and Richard A. Hutchison, 1085 Monaca St., were fined $25 and costs each on charges of driving without licenses. Martin was cited Saturday night on E. 5th St. by police while Hutchison was cited by the State Highway Patrol Saturday night on Route 7.

Lloyd J. Taylor of Ambridge forfeited a $31 bond on a reckless operation charge filed by the patrol after he was cited Sunday night on Route 30.

Donavan C. Sprouse of Hammondsville R. D. 1, cited by the patrol Sunday afternoon for failing to stop within the assured clear distance, forfeited $16.

Frank Paul Sylvis Jr. of Bethel Park, Pa., cited for passing over a yellow line on Route 30 Sunday night, also forfeited $16.

Robert James Smith, 301 Maplewood Ave., charged with speeding last night on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." by city police, also forfeited $16.

John C. Landis, 1157 Lisbon St., was fined $10 and costs by Judge Brokaw after being found guilty of crashing a traffic signal at E. 9th St. and Dresden Ave. Friday. Judge Brokaw suspended $5 of the fine. Landis had entered a not guilty plea Saturday.

Louis W. LeBlanc of Akron forfeited $11 for crashing a traffic signal at Jackson and W. 6th Sts. last Tuesday.

Three motorists, cited last week by police using radar timing equipment, were fined $10 and costs each today, with $5 of their fines suspended.

Harley E. Reed of St. Clair Ave. and Andrew Petrick of Mounted Route 19 were cited Thursday on St. Clair Ave. while Wade S. Glass, 1574 Pennsylvania Ave., was cited Thursday morning on W. 8th St.

According to the Registration Commission at Beaver, precincts for area boroughs and townships include:

Midland — Borough Building, first; 7th St. School, second; Croatian Hall, 500 Beaver Ave., third; 4th St. School, fourth; and Midland Heights Community building, fifth.

Hookstown — Borough building; Georgetown — Todd's Store building; Greene Township — Hookstown Grange Hall; Hanover Township — Tiderman Garage, Route 18 and 30, East district, and J. A. McConnell building, West district.

Glasgow Borough of Smiths Ferry — School house; Industry Township — basement of Lutheran Church, first, and Industry School, second; Ohio Township — Municipal Building, first, and Fairview School, second; Raccoon Township —elementary school; Shippingport —Borough Building; and Frankfort Springs — David Wilcoxen Garage.

East Palestine Gets Extra Vote Machines

EAST PALESTINE — Extra voting machines are being moved to at least 6 of the city's 8 precinct polling places to facilitate voting in Tuesday's general election.

The voting places are at the same locations as in the May primary, when the voting machines were given the first of the two trials here and at Lisbon.

hour to read his prepared statement.

When he had finished, Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said: "I want to compliment you on this statement."

And Robert Lishman, committee counsel, said he had no questions to ask because the statement in itself was "so complete" an exposure of "this whole sordid mess."

The hearings by the Legislative Oversight subcommittee are scheduled to run three days. Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark), has a reputation for being tight lipped, was even more taciturn than usual when queried about other quiz shows to be scrutinized.

"We'll announce that when the time comes," he said.

However, subcommittee sources already have acknowledged that at least two other shows — The "$64,000 Question" and the "$64,000 Challenge"—will be looked into.

Charles Revson, president of Revlon, Inc., which once sponsored both the $64,000 shows, volunteered Sunday to appear.

The Columbia Broadcasting System scuttled both programs last year in the wake of the rigging allegations.

Van Doren, 33, a TV commentator and an English instructor at Columbia University, was subpoenaed after the subcommittee heard a flood of testimony that "Twenty - One" was fixed and fraudulent.

CHERTOFF JUDGE

MUNICIPAL COURT—EAST LIVERPOOL AND LIVERPOOL TOWNSHIP

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW ENDORSES CHERTOFF

Excerpts From An Editorial
East Liverpool Review, Oct. 28, 1959

There comes a time, however, when it seems logical for a person to step down with the knowledge that he has served well and turn the reins over to one younger with a fresh, energetic approach.

With a feeling that it's time for a change on the Municipal Court bench for the reason outlined above. The Review recommends Atty. Chertoff's election as judge.

EAST LIVERPOOL TRADES and LABOR COUNCIL ENDORSES CHERTOFF

It is with distinct pleasure that Trades & Labor Council of East Liverpool, Ohio endorses your candidacy as Municipal Court Judge. Your years of public service has demonstrated a trustworthiness and devotion to public welfare that merits your election to the bench.

X Will Mark The Spot

Everything that can be done about the 1959 election now has been done. The candidates and their managers are through campaigning. The issues have been aired and analyzed.

This is not a big election, nothing like the national election coming next year when a president, vice president and a new Congress will be elected.

But there is no such thing as a small election, on the other hand. For candidates some elections may seem small, but for voters every election is the biggest thing that ever happened to free men on this earth.

We need to think about it more often — we free men.

We need to think of our brothers and sisters who do not care enough about their freedom to vote: they do not choose to be free, though they have the option.

We need to think of what we do with our own votes when we use them.

THE VOTING FRANCHISE is a trusteeship.

A voter marks his ballot in behalf of his own personal share in popular government.

If he does not use his trusteeship to the best of his ability, he is undermining the thing he is part of.

"To the best of his ability"...

A voter must try to rise above pettiness.

He should not use the ballot box to get even with anyone.

He should never forget that the consequence of his personal act of voting could be that of a dictator giving an edict. Many a contest between candidates, many an issue, has been decided by a single vote.

Most of all, a voter should realize he is making a decision in behalf of others.

X WILL MARK the spot this election day where popular government risked its right to survive.

Far from being just the day when government by the people reaches its pinnacle of glory, Election Day also is the moment of popular sovereignty's greatest peril.

If enough school issues are defeated, there will be no alternative to seeking federal aid for local education. Home rule will have wrecked itself on the disinclination of voters to tax themselves voluntarily; their preference for letting the federal government take their money to Washington, discount it for bureaucratic handling and send back the residue to those who put up the loudest squawk in their own behalf.

There are, to be sure, votes that don't matter on issues of no consequence. But any voter who tries to predict what they will be is prophesying beyond his ability to guess about the future.

NOW THAT THE campaigning is over, if every voter would go over his decisions carefully once more, trying to take the long view, trying to live up to his trusteeship, there would be no foolish or accidental decisions on Tuesday.

A few minutes out of a busy year doesn't seem like too long to spend on a responsibility that once was reserved to kings.

Alice Saw It In The Looking Glass

It is official. The U.S. Army has ordered a Canadian aircraft manufacturer to develop a flying saucer. The bizarre craft has been built and put through preliminary tests.

Its function will be to hover and spin in low-level operation—a kind of air-borne cavalry for ground troops. It will be classified as a tactical aircraft, if it works. Someone is convinced of its workability, or the prototype would not have been built.

Here is the kind of thing that makes a trusting soul want to box his own ears and look backward between his legs to catch a glimpse of his neck. A flying saucer developed with public funds and tested for use in the U.S. Army must be something that Alice has seen in the Looking Glass.

There is no such thing as a flying saucer. Why would the United States be trying to develop something that the Air Force can prove is nonexistent with a lorry full of documents and a busload of experts?

Is it because some strategist of popular psychology has figured out that the only way to purge the figment of imagination that flying saucers are real is to create a tangible focus—to make them real?

Is the idea to give the Air Force, to which all flying saucer sightings are reported, the option of observing drily, "Ah yes, possible one of those Army tactical aircraft. Blasted things look just like flying saucers, you know."

But look, sweet Alice, the blasted things really would be flying saucers, even in a looking glass. Fiction would be reality, which raises anew one of the most ticklish questions in years: How much reality is there in the fiction of flying saucers?

An Essay On Ham

By Frank Tripp

You couldn't buy today's menu at a market. It's a different kind of ham. Inspired by a letter from a reader that thrust memory back 59 years to a spirited newsroom discussion on "hams."

The doubtful accolade concluded: "I guess you and Hal Boyle are the only hams who didn't go out whole hog as authorities on Khrushchev. Congratulations." Maybe he sent Hal a carbon, I don't know.

Anyway, in the manner that limping TV personalities use their friends to prop up tottering programs, today my "guest star" is that eminent dietary humbug, Pulitzer Prize foreign correspondent, Mr. Harold V. Boyle — my favorite ham.

Which demands a quarrel with a term commonly used to belittle men who hammed their way to somewhere and kept on hamming to stay there.

Originally, a "ham" was an actor who "hammed" his role to play to the gallery—the common people. Hal may resent it; I admit premeditated guilt.

THE AUSTERE purist editor where I cubbed, tabooed the term "ham" after my first mentor, venerable, down-to-earth Ed Adams, his assistant, had applied it playfully to his intimate drinking partner — none other than one Samuel L. Clemens, our part-time townsman.

In the same squib (New Yorker stuff today) Ed included another crony among his "hams I have known." Sir William S. Gilbert (Gilbert & Sullivan). It never got printed; ye superior editor killed it and sent it back with his dictum. Ed even insisted that Shakespeare was the original "ham."

Mr. Adams was mad. He delivered the ruling to the staff and I never forgot what he said with unprintable emphasis: "When you kids quit hamming, old man Cunningham will have a sheet so dry it will burn coming off the press."

By golly, I've lived to almost see it happen.

Lovable Ed Adams' contemporary "hams" were Mark Twain, Gilbert et al. Mine have been acquaintances such as Damon Runyon, George Ade, Ernie Pyle and others; "writin' fools" like Boyle who poured out uninhibited thoughts to readers hungry for a change of pace.

Great reporters whose assignments were people, their joys, their yen to smile; their sorrows, and type that cried with them; their gripes and an unshackled guy to gripe for them. Every peoples' reporter I've known was a "ham" at heart, and never got over it.

WE NEED more ham in our literary diet; it's getting too expert, too technical, beginning to read like the 1900 Scientific American. Only the great mind of the "specialist" can express its thoughts.

The lads who get among the people can't "ham it" anymore, can't write what people want most to read; must be "objective." wandering mirrors daubed with soap; bypassing the drama of life that doesn't become an "assignment" until the third act. So folks watch Westerns.

Papers hire a few columnists to do it; then keep their own staffs handcuffed with "objectivity." Where will the future Runyons, Pyles and Boyles come from, and where would they go today if thus hamstrung? To writing for TV or Madison Ave., while newspapers committed suicide?

Getting back to Mr. K, what about the hundreds of assigned experts, not a "ham" among 'em, who saw a strange man crash K's Iowa farm visit, saw him photographed with K three times, got in the way of their own cameras, got kicked out of the act, and in a million word report, left it to a magazine to discover the interloper?

Any ham reporter I ever knew would have asked "Who's that guy?" and had himself a lead story that didn't come out for a week. Hams are inquisitive souls.

Give me the hams—you take the caviar!

Odd Facts

The title "First Lady of the Land," as applied to the wife of a U. S. president, was first bestowed on Lucy Webb Hayes by Mary Clemmer in her account of the inauguration of 1877. It was popularized by the production in 1911-12 of Charles Frederic Nirdinger's play about Dolly Madison entitled "The First Lady of the Land."

The machine known as a "lie detector" does not really detect lies. It records emotional disturbances through blood pressure, respiration and heartbeat, all of which are believed to be affected by the feeling of guilt.

The present system of withholding personal income taxes from the wages of U. S. citizens began on July 1, 1943.

Sugar, in its raw state, is brown or yellowish in color. It is whitened by the process of filtering through charcoal.

A Revival Of 'Buy American'

By Jay G. Hayden

With the 1960 presidential election close at hand, Republicans and Democrats appear to be competing with each other in policies for the protection of American business and labor from low cost foreign competition.

But the traditional protectionist policy of the Republicans and the free-tradism of the Democrats have changed radically, if not reversed.

The most rampant protectionists in Congress today are the representatives and senators from the South (not quite so solidly Democratic as in former days but almost so) and from the nine mining and livestock states of the most so and from the nine mining and livestock states of the mountain West, which today are represented in the Senate by 14 Democrats and four Republicans.

In contrast, Republican protectionism has decidedly slumped since the days of "Uncle Joe" Cannon and Michigan's Joseph W. Fordney.

The largest American industries, such as automobiles and steel, generally persist in opposing increases in trade restrictions even though, on the face of things, they are heavily threatened by imports of foreign manufactures.

THE PRIME CAUSE of American alarm is that the United States in 1958 had an over-all balance-of-payments deficit, in its trade with all foreign countries, of $3,400,000,000. On the basis of returns to date, that deficiency may amount to $4,600,000,000 this year.

This condition is not due to trade imbalances, although such things as decreased buying of U.S. cotton and aircraft and large acceleration in American buying of foreign made automobiles, contributed to it.

The deficit arises primarily from U.S. contributions to foreign relief and large costs for American troops stationed overseas.

Other factors are the pouring out of dollars by American tourists everywhere around the globe, in sharp contrast to the tight restrictions by foreign governments against travel by their citizens to the U.S., and heavy investments by American industries in foreign manufacturing.

In the latter category are the U.S. automobiles which are built abroad with cheaper labor and then shipped here for sale to American customers.

The U.S. dollar deficit has been highlighted by the Eisenhower administration in two ways over the past week. First, the Development Loan Fund, an agency of the International Cooperation Administration set up to make loans to underdeveloped countries, proclaimed a "Buy American" program.

In contrast to a previous practice of allowing borrowers in underdeveloped countries to spend the money anywhere in the world, the new rule is that it normally must be used for purchase of American goods.

OFFICIALS made plain that one purpose of the change was to put pressure on the nations of Europe, which now have heavy dollar reserves, to take over the business of loaning money to backward nations.

As things had been going previously, the United States put up the cash and the foreign countries, with lower labor costs, reaped the orders for commodities.

About the same time C. Douglas Dillon, under secretary of state, began a campaign before the world organization for General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) for a universal lifting of the restrictions against flow of goods among nations.

Because of the dollar shortage what prevailed all around the globe until recently, nearly all nations set up special barriers against American goods, except goods which were given free and that condition has continued even in nations that have large dollar surpluses.

Reactions by Congress to these conditions can be seen in advance. The "Buy American" slogan always has been a political favorite and it is sure to gain added strength in an election year.

That principle, strictly applied to foreign aid, both economic and military, could prove a great boon to American producers and taxpayers.

The greatest single dollar exports, of course, are those spent on American troops stationed overseas, and on maintenance of large native forces in nations such as Korea, Taiwan and Vietnam.

It is unthinkable at the moment that these military costs will be wiped out but Congress very well may lop off a large chunk of them unless it can be shown that American voters will benefit from their continuance.

The Original Baedeker

By Omer Anderson

COBLENZ, GERMANY, Karl Baedeker, writing in 1854, bristled at avaricious innkeepers who charge their guests for the candles to light their rooms.

"Nobody minds paying for what he enjoyes," Baedeker lectured, "but to pay the price of a room again for things that should be included in the original price is very annoying."

The jet-age travel industry owes an abiding debt to the indefatigable German who died 100 years ago this month, the first and most solemnly conscientious of the guide book writers.

He never wrote about any city he hadn't visited, any restaurant he hadn't dined in or any hotel he hadn't slept in.

Baedeker rapped the knuckles of innkeepers and travelers impartially. His 1854 Guide to Germany postulated that: "The treatment of guests at an inn depends on many circumstances. . . The appearance of the guest himself influences the kind of treatment he will receive."

"Someone who is traveling with heavy trunks, making a lot of noise, full of complaints and demands about the room, bed, food or drinks and ringing the bell for service all the time, should not complain if he has to pay a big bill," Baedeker observed.

"For this kind of traveler, the prices cited in this book do not apply; in these circumstances, they are too low."

IN THE EARLY 1800's there were no travel agencies to hand out four-color tour folders and arrange all expense, minutely scheduled, guided tours of the Continent.

Travel was mostly by post coach, wayside inns were dubious, inn-keepers and guides frequently larcenous. Traveling was rarely done for pleasure; it required fortitude and stamina.

But Karl Baedeker dreamed of changing all this. Almost along, he liked to travel for fun and he foresaw the mass tourism inherent in the first railroads and steamships.

Baedeker was born in Essen, then part of Prussia, in 1801. He was the son of a printer-publisher. When 26, he moved upstream on the Rhine to found his own publishing business at Coblenz.

The first passenger steamer service had just been started on the Rhine between Coblenz and Mainz, and one Prof. J. A. Klein had brought out a modest guidebook for the trip.

Baedeker had done considerable traveling before coming to Coblenz. He sensed not only the upsurge in mass travel but the need for accurate, detailed travel information. Travel literature then extant was mainly a skein of fantasy suspended on a few pegs of fact.

Young Baedeker bought out Klein's right to the Rhine Guide, revised it and the result was the first "Baedeker." And with his first "Baedeker," young Karl Baedeker became a dedicated man.

Winters, he operated his Coblenz publishing house, summers, he roved Europe, noting in microscopic detail everything he observed. When he died, a contemporary described him:

"Year after year, throughout the tourist season, a man wandered through Germany, Switzerland, through the Netherlands or through Italy. The man was of average height, looked strong and stout and had firm, almost stern, features.

"He had benevolent and intelligent eyes in his broad face; his garments were modest and he wore a broad, peaked cap, solid shoes and leggins and carried his umbrella hooked to the topmost button of his jacket. Save for a blackened traveling bag, he had no luggage."

In the traveling bag Baedeker carried the notebooks in which he set down is cameralike impressions, historical date, information on prices, tipping practices, food, hotels, timetables and myriad such facts useful to future tourists.

HE METICULOUSLY visited every museum, palace, monument and landmark, noted what he thought of it (not much, on occasion), the entry fees, days open and how much to tip the guide.

An entry in his diary dated June 14, 1854, is typical of his passion for diligence and detail. He records that he spent eight hours one day and six hours the next in the Pere Lachaise Cemetery in Paris mapping the location of the graves of famous people. Accuracy became the hallmark of the "Baedeker."

Baedeker's thrift also endeared him to travelers. He bristled at high prices. In this respect Paris annoyed him intensely. He wrote testily in the introduction to his Guide to Paris in 1855:

"For traveling here, one needs firstly, secondly and thirdly — money."

Because a majority of Europe's 19th-century tourists were Britons, Baedeker began publishing his guides in English. Before World War I, a Briton making the Grand Tour would have sooner started without shoes as without his Baedeker.

After Karl Baedeker's death, his sons continued putting out the famous red-bound Guides, crammed, as their father would have insisted, with advice, history and facts, facts, facts.

The House of Baedeker, which is still family-owned, had difficulty surviving World War I and its offices and printing plant were moved from Coblenz to Leipzig.

Warm Spell Sets In

By James Marlow

World Seems In A Comfortable State

WASHINGTON The world — moving toward Christmas 1959—seems more comfortable than it has in years.

As winter closes in there is an international warm spell again.

The Western Allies, who seemed at sixes and sevens for a while, agreed to meet Dec. 19 as a preliminary to a summit conference.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who sounded irked at not getting to the summit right away, appears satisfied so long as he gets there at all.

President Charles de Gaulle of France chilled the United States and Britain just a few weeks ago by wanting no summit meeting until spring.

There had been a feeling until then that the Big Four might get together in Geneva in December.

But De Gaulle said this was too soon, that the Western Allies should first decide on what to say and how far to go before meeting Khrushchev.

This makes sense, even though a delay till spring permits events which could ruin Soviet - Western relations.

De Gaulle, strong for prestige, may have had a couple of personal reasons for not rushing to the summit.

Both President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have had recent talks with Khrushchev but De Gaulle has not.

So he will be even with his partners if he also meets the Soviet Premier, as he now expects to do early next year.

One other thing: before spring and a summit meeting France may have produced its first atomic explosion, giving it a sense of equality with the American-British-Soviet atomic club.

In a major policy speech in Moscow Saturday Khrushchev not only did not sound annoyed over a summit delay but rather pleased that things were looking up.

Perhaps the most important thing he revealed was a stand-off attitude on the conflict between India and his partner, Red China.

He backed the Chinese Communists on wanting Formosa but stood neutral on the India-China border shooting.

He has a stake in wanting to keep the indians friendly.

And, as if anxious to dissociate himself from some future Red Chinese adventure which might cause trouble, Khrushchev pointedly indicated the Soviet Union should not be held responsible for what the Chinese did.

Khrushchev takes full credit for the Soviet Union in making the world seem a little more relaxed and comfortable place to live in. He emphasized the U.S.S.R. had taken the initiative to bring this about.

And he is pretty much right. The initiative this year belonged to the Soviet union, not the West.

Letters To The Editor

I would like to present a slightly different way of looking at the proposed city income tax.

If one of our citizens was building a new home, and his neighbors offered to pay a large part of the cost of this home, no strings attached, surely this citizen would be glad to accept this offer.

Of course no neighbor will make such an offer, but the city income tax will cause neighbors to help in paying for all city improvements.

We have a great many business firms, some owned by "out - of-town" people and some owned by "local" people, which now pay little or no taxes direct to our city. By voting the city income tax into law, we can have all those business firms help pay the cost of all East Liverpool operations.

Please compare these figures under the proposed tax: A man earning $3,000 per year would pay a tax of $18; a man earning $10,000 per year would pay a tax of $60; a man earning $100,000 per year would pay a tax of $600.

I suggest that the small earner would benefit greatly while the large earner would stand the larger share of the cost.

Let us not throw away this gift by voting no on the tax. Let us vote yes and improve our city by all paying a part of the cost.

RICHARD C. SANT
Park Way

Greetings to all the readers of The Review in the name of Jesus. Now, someone will say that I am a fanatic for using the name of Jesus in these letters to the editor.

Better that way, than a fanatic for worldiness at any time. One thing is sure that prayer will change things if prayed in faith, for all things are possible to them that believe. What comforts us today in the hour of unrest and turmoil? It is a sad fact that some of our so-called theologians and modernists have in their minds to eradicate our Sunday or Sabbath Day from us. Time was when six days shalt thou labor, but on the Sabbath no manner of work, except to worship the Lord God.

Now they want that day for political purposes. We seem to have that day for everything else, but worship; and taking things out for holy things. And those same modernists and ecclesiastied preachers, feel the time is now ripe for a consolidation of all churches, so that one ecclesiatied bishop would be in complete charge. Naturally with that kind of dictator ruling, he would tell us how to conduct ourselves. Therefore, overnight the freedom of the press would cease, liberty would be completely taken away from us and we would become vassals for those in authority. Whereas the Constitution of the United States says that Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion; or prohibiting the excessive thought. I for one absolutely believe in a wall of seperation between the church and the state. For when an ecclesiastied body gets power over the state or country, the freedom and liberty of the nation is at an end. I feel like Patrick Henry, "Give me religious liberty or give me death." We are getting farther away from the Gospel of Jesus Christ, to a social gospel, by calling it the fatherhood and brotherhood of men, which does away with the redemption wrought by Jesus on Calvary.

The modernist so-called preachers are afraid to preach the blood bought gospel. The struggle today is between the Christian forces on one side and the atheist forces on the other. Than we seem to have quite a few monkey wrenches in our government, who are quite willing to give our country over to the Commies.

What we really need right now is a dozen Godly men like Billy Graham preaching the unsearchable riches of a living gospel of Jesus Christ. To much rotten deadwood calling themselves preachers in our churches today.

Last, but not least, I am pleased to write that Mr. Lawrence is running again for mayor. I said in my first letter concerning him that his first two years in office would be rough, rocky and treacherous, but a man of his starling qualities would overcome these obstacles. I took pride in looking at the excellent sign coming in from Wellsville, A wonderful progressive sign indeed. Come on fellow citizens of East Liverpool, let's stand shoulder to shoulder with him and vote him into office for the second term.

His second term in office, he will have the city in excellent condition.

Less we forget taxation caused the "Boston Tea Party Revolution." Being continually taxed could cause another such happening. I am for the freeway allright with one specific condition that we raze the present Chester Bridge, twice as wide as the old one. Another thought and I am through. We seem to be floundering in the currents of a scientific age, but going no where spiritually. Don't forget, however, we are all headed for the judgment, to give an account of our stewardship to Him who knows all the secrets of the heart.

Death struck on city streets, county roads, and state and federal highways as traffic fatalities once again dominated Ohio's week end accident toll.

From the time little Robert Parker of Zanesville died as a possible tragic consequence of wearing a dark-colored Halloween costume Friday night, at least 17 eprsons met death in Ohio traffic.

As usual, the survey by The Associated Press covered the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

Robert E. Porter II, 8, of Zanesville, struck by a car as he ran across Ohio 77 north of the city in a dark blue Halloween costume.

Ralph E. Kidder, 48, of Champaign County, when his pickup truck hit a car and rolled into a ditch near Urbana.

Mrs. Minnie Lane, 71, of Detroit, Mich., thrown out and run over after her husband's car collided with another in suburban Cincinnati.

Saturday

Mrs. Rose Marie Wilms, 48, of Rt. 2, Columbiana (Columbiana County), passenger in a car hit by a tank truck at the Ohio 46-Western Reserve Road intersection three miles south of Canfield in Mahoning County.

Mrs. Helen Wilson, 60, of Cleveland, hit by a tractor-trailer truck at a city intersection.

Mrs. Madeleine Gerber, 72, of Cleveland, hit by a car—also at a Cleveland intersection.

Harry R. Bruderly, 34, of Leetonia (Columbiana County), when his car left a county road two miles south of Leetonia and hit a utility pole.

Umberto DeLuca, 23, of Toledo, hit by a car as he was taking a repaired tire to his car on Ohio 51 near the Detroit - Toledo Expressway.

Earl A. Dumford, 35, of Loveland (Clermont County), when his car collided with a train at a crossing west of Batavia.

Grace Bucher, 45, of Cincinnati, in a collision on U.S. 42 near Xenia.

James Cremeens, 17, of Patriot (Gallia County), when his car hit a culvert on Ohio 141 near Gallipolis.

Sunday

Larry Honeycutt, 19, of Dayton, following a collision between his car and a taxicab at the intersection of Ohio 201 and Avondale Drive north of Dayton.

Michael F. Kejder, 43, of Ravenna, when his car collided with a truck on Ohio 14 in Twinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Rippel, both 64, of Dover, in a head-on collision of two cars at the intersection of Ohio 43 and 44 north of Waynesburg (Stark County).

Clifford Edwards, 4, of Cincinnati, hit by a car near his home.

Sandra Elaine Lawrence, 3 months, of Scott Depot, W. Va., when her parents' car crashed on U.S. 35 four miles east of Jackson.

Will Take Ohio U. Test

COLUMBIANA — Harold Russell Atkinson of R. D. 1 will be among 97 state high school students to visit Ohio University at Athens Nov. 13 to participate in an awards competition test on Ohio history, government and citizenship. Students from all 88 counties took the preliminary examination. First-place winners will receive a two-day expense-paid trip to Ohio U. as guests of the University Student Committee.

The National Wildlife Federation offers scholarships up to $1,000 in conservation education.

Army Sergeant Tells Of Being Hit By Fishing Gun

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— "When it hit, I didn't feel anything."

Army Sgt. Bill Morris, 33, was lying in a hospital bed telling about being speared by a fishing gun.

The five-foot spear skewered his body from left shoulder to right thigh while he was out snorkeling Saturday with his cousin, John Rowell, 28.

Rowell, a novice at the underwater sport, accidentally fired the spear when Morris touched him in water two to three feet deep.

Morris never lost consciousness and remained cool: "There wasn't too much pain—except when you moved."

He held his 186-pound, 5-foot-11 body still until the ambulance arrived.

Doctors at Jackson Memorial worked five hours to remove the spear. They took off the tip, then eased out the shaft the way it entered.

10 Beaver Farmers Sign For Soil Bank

A total of 10 farmers in Beaver County have filed applications for contracts in the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve beginning in 1960, Chairman G. M. Swick of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

All call for the retirement of the whole farm from crop production. The total acreage included in the applications is 491.5.

Swick said the applications now will be analyzed and a physical check will be made of the land offered for the program. Farmers whose applications can be accepted will be notified when their contracts are ready for signature at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. Farmers also will be notified in cases where applications cannot be accepted, usually because of insufficient funds.

A farmer who signs a Conservation Reserve contract undertakes to keep specified cropland on his farm out of production and under conservation practices for a period of up to 10 years and to reduce his acreage of harvested crops by a corresponding amount. In return, the farmer earns an annual rental payment and receives a share of the cost of the conservation practices.

West Virginia Wrecks Kill 5

By The Associated Press

It was another bad weekend in West Virginia on the highways. At least three men, a woman and a child died from accidents yesterday and Saturday.

Another two men were killed in a wreck the night before the weekend started.

The three deaths Sunday came in Putnam, Summers and Mercer counties.

J. Wesley Glass of McComas was at the wheel when his car sideswiped another near Bluefield and hit a telephone pole. His passenger, James Perkins, also of McComas, was pitched clear and came out unhurt but Glass was killed outright.

A woman who lived in Winfield, Mrs. Virgina Van Pelt, 36, was driving alone not far from her home. Her car left U. S. 17, ran into a ditch and turned over. She died in a hospital later in the day.

One Beckley man was killed and another injured when their car struck a guard rail on W. Va. 3 about seven miles west of Hinton. The dead man was identified as Walton E. Darlington, 38. The other man, Arlie Kidwell, 35, was reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital where he was taken.

George F. Fisher, 30, of Sistersville was killed Saturday night when the car in which he was a passenger veered off W. Va. 2 a few miles south of New Martinsville.

James Johnson, 6, of Chester died Saturday of injuries received the day before when he was struck by a car not far from his home.

On Friday night, two men from Wellsburg, Harry W. White, 55, and Eugene D. Kunzler, 51, were killed when their car missed a curve on U. S. 50 near Pennsboro in Ritchie County.

Former Sheriff Dies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Robert Roberts, 73, sheriff of adjoining Clermont County in the early 1930s and more recently manager of a state liquor store a tBatavia, died at Christ Hospital late Saturday.

Ban On Outdoor Fires Removed At Wellsville

Mayor William J. Shoub today lifted the ban on burning inside the city limits to permit residents to burn the accumulation of leaves in their yards and clear off garden refuse.

The ban will be off for two weeks, the mayor said. He warned against burning on blacktop streets and said all persons will be held responsible for any damage caused by the fires.

Shoub asked that the normal precautions be taken against allowing the fire to spread. No burning should be done on windy days, he said.

The mayor usually lifts the ban twice each year, once in the spring and again in the late fall. Residents still are prohibited from burning garbage and other refuse.

Americans read 122 pounds of newspapers and magazines last year, says the American Paper and Pulp Assn.

Social Security Pays $614,992 To 9,551 Residents Of County

Social Security pays $614,992 monthly to 9,551 individuals in Columbiana County, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown district office of the federal agency, reported today.

In the Mahoning - Columbiana County area, old age, survivors and disability insurance is being paid at the rate of $26 million a year, McCauley said. The total represents an increase of about 25 per cent from December 1957.

In Mahoning County, the agency pays $1,612,935 monthly to 23,216 beneficiaries. The combined monthly payments in the two counties total $2,227,927 for 32,767 persons.

There were several reasons for the increase over a year ago McCauley said. The long-term growth of the aged population and of the proportion of the aged population eligible for benefits are important factors in the continuing increase in the number of beneficiaries. Other reasons for the increase of beneficiaries are found in the provisions of the 1958 amendments to the Social Security Act, which now make it possible for the wife, dependent husband and children of a disabled worker beneficiary to receive monthly payments.

Increases in benefit payments reflect the 7 per cent raise in benefit amounts which became effective with the checks for January 1959, McCauley said.

He also noted that payments to retired workers in Mahoning County were substantially above both the national and state average.

Payments to retired workers with no dependents average $84.48 in Mahoning County, while the national average is $67.50 and for Ohio it is $75.74. In Columbiana County, the average is $75.84.

Included in three benefit payments were 500 totally and permanently disabled persons and their dependents in Mahoning County receiving $44,799 a month and 262 in Columbiana County being paid $20,240.

In Mahoning County these figures show 11,722 retired persons 65 or over receiving $989,278 monthly while the other beneficiaries are listed as 4,228 wives receiveing $190,125. There are 2,602 children receiving $132,522 and 3,460 widows receiving $209,956. The balance is made up of mothers and dependent parents, which total 767 receiving $88,899 monthly.

In Columbiana County, the figures are 5,205 retired persons 65 or over receiving $394,754 monthly while the other beneficiaries are listed as 1,654 wives receiving $67,674. There are 1,070 children receiving $52,029 and 1,154 widows receiving $65,764. The balance is made up of mothers and dependent parents, which total 263 receiving $16,577 monthly.

285 Get Orders To Report Aboard Lake Ore Boats

CLEVELAND (AP)—About 285 licensed officers of Pittsburgh Steamship Co. are under orders to report back aboard their ore carriers by the end of this week.

Pittsburgh Steamship, a subsidiary of U.S. Steel Corp., has 57 vessels—largest ore - carrying fleet of the Great Lakes. Most of the fleet has been laid up in Milwaukee and Duluth since the steel strike began in mid-July.

A company spokesman said Sunday night the callback was not in anticipation of an end to the basic steel walkout but "only for the boats' protection and to get them winterized."

The licensed officers will join some personnel who stayed aboard the vessels during the past 110 days while they were out of service. The unlicensed personnel are striking members of the United Steelworkers. The captain, a cook and a chief engineer have been kept aboard most carriers.

Pittsburgh Steamship estimated it would take three days after a halt of the steel strike by negotiated settlement or by Taft-Hartley Act injunction before crewmen could be rounded up to man the ships.

This means that at best only about a month of ore-shipping could be expected should the strike end this week. The 243 vessels in the lake ore-carrying fleet could haul about two million tons of ore weekly until the winter ice closes channels. But trips after Dec. 1 will be costly, because insurance rates rise sharply for shipping after that date.

Child's Nickel Given To Hancock Red Cross

The North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter's 1960 fund drive, not due to start for a couple of months yet, got its first contribution Sunday — 5 cents from a Newell boy.

Alvin (Pete) Arner of Chester, returning a patient home by ambulance yesterday, said Jerry Enochs, 8, of Grant St. approached, handed him a nickel, saying he wanted to help the poor people," apparently meaning those who are ill.

Arner said he accepted the contribution and gave it to officials of the chapter, for which he is first aid chairman. The youth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Enochs.

Farm Census Plans Pushed

The 1959 census of agriculture will get under way in Columbiana County in mid-November, it was announced today by Wade A. Loop of Salem, who has been named crew leader for the county survey.

Loop said classroom training for 15 enumerators will be held in the Village Hall at Lisbon Nov. 11, 12, and 13.

He has completed his own training and will direct the enumerators, who will start their work immediately after the school closes.

The agricultural canvass, which is a part of a nationwide survey being conducted by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, is expected to require about three weeks in Columbiana County, Loop said.

Most of the enumerators have been chosen, but several still are needed in the East Liverpool area, he said.

The enumerators will contact farmers on their inventories, the amount of land used for crops and pasture, quantity of crops harvested, the number of poultry and livestock on farms and the kinds of equipment that farmers have, expenditures, farm values and mortgage debt.

Many farmers already have received their census forms by mail. The advance mailing enables farm operators to consult the records before supplying information required by the questionnaires. Each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered "yes" or "no."

The Commerce Department has completed its census work in the northwestern states to beat the advancing winter weather and is working southward.

Fire Destroys Barn

CLEVELAND (AP) — A two-story wooden carriage barn on the campus of Telshe Yeshiva College in nearby Wickliffe was destroyed by fire Sunday. Damage was estimated at $10,000. Firemen said they could find no cause for the fire and suspected it may have been started by vandals.

"HE IS BEST OF ALL MEN WHO FOLLOWS GOOD ADVICE"

—*(Author's Name Below)—

It is amazing how many people are quick to offer health advice. Without any study or knowledge, they tell you what you should do or take when you are sick. Thoughtless friends are sincere but unfortunately there are many opportunists. Some door-to-door peddlers and sharp mail order promoters consider profits more important than the good their product will do.

Wise men know the only person capable of giving good advice about how to treat sickness is a physician. They also realize when they obtain medicines and healthaids from a pharmacist pledged to consider health more important than immediate great profits, they are always safer.

Wellsville Society

Miss Ruth Urie LE 2-2288

Following the theme, "You, Too Can be Beautiful," hair styles and fashions will be the highlights of a meeting of the Wellsville Arts Club Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Elks Home.

Mrs. Dorothy Grace Putnam will use models to demonstrate types of hairs styles. The George W. Allison Co., under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Donaldson, manager, and the Modern Shoppe, directed by Mrs. Thelma Menough, manager, will present new fall fashions.

Selections will be sung by The Colonials barbershop quartet, new Johnny Appleseed District champions. Members are Jim Raffle, Chuck and Bill Brooks and Dale Keddie. Mrs. Nova Runyon, program chairman, and her committee will serve as hostesses.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

"Giving Yourself" was the devotional theme at a meeting of Class 13 of the Central Methodist Church Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Edith Beaumont of Clark Ave.

Mrs. Leona Bissman, leader, read James 20. The Lord's Prayer was given in unison. Mrs. Edna Clark, president, conducted business. Games were played. Mrs. Clara Strong of Chippewa was a guest.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The November meeting will be with Mrs. Bissman of Main St. Mrs. Ruby Plunkett will be devotional leader and Mrs. Mable Fitzgerald will have charge of the entertainment.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Corn shocks, pumpkins and other Halloween novelties decorated the social room of the First Presbyterian Church for the masquerade party of the Sunday School Friday night, attended by 75.

A grand march was held. Miniature packages of candy were favors. Refreshments were served by the teachers and officers. Games and contests were the pastime.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

A contribution to CARE was voted by members of the Mary Hammond Class of the First Methodist church when they met Friday night at the home of Mrs. Edna Roseberry of 10th St.

The class will sell pecans for the benefit of the treasury. Mrs. Ora Whitla, vice president, conducted business in the absence of Mrs. Anna Morgan, president.

Mrs. Besse Guinn gave the opening prayer and devotions were led by Mrs. Lonne Geisse, substituting for Mrs. Morgan. Selected Bible verses were read by Miss Helene Manypenny, Mrs. Ruth Kellaway, Mrs. Reba Lloyd and Mrs. Guinn. A poem was given by Mrs. Roseberry. Hymns were sung by the group.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The November meeting will be at the Geisse home on Main St.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Games were the diversion at the masquerade party of the Yellow Creek Juvenile Grange Friday night in the Grange Hall.

In charge were Janet Dunn, Beverly Reight and Delbert Wlliams. Decorations were in the Halloween Theme. Seasonal refreshments were served 31 by the mothers and homemade candy was brought by the members.

The next regular meeting will be held Thursday with Larry Mick, master presiding.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Variety Program Marks Halloween Party For Women

A variety program was featured at the Halloween party of the Sweet Adelines Chapter Friday night at Tice's Restaurant. Some 40 attended.

Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, president, was the mistress of ceremonies. Miss JoAnn Vannoy led the chorus in several selections. A humorous reading was given by James Pryor and Miss Betsy Eunson presented a soprano solo. Mrs. June Morgan read a "spook" story with sound effects and the "Charleston" was danced by Mrs. Alberta Bates, Mrs. Wilma Laughlin, Mrs. Mary Bowdler and Mrs. Clara Hall.

Husbands of the members, who were guests, sang several numbers with Miss Vannoy as accompanist. Mrs. Edith Alexander, Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Doris Jackson formed the program committee. Costume prizes were awarded to Ted Morgan and Mrs. Mary Reed. Ronald Withroe won the special prize donated by Mrs. Hazel Kiehl.

Seasonal decorations used throughout the room were arranged by Mrs. Ginger Hile, chairman, Mrs. Wanda Schussler and Mrs. Reed. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Rinehart conducted brief business. The group accepted an invitation to sing Dec. 8 for the Lincoln PTA and an invitation to attend a meeting with the men's Barbershop group on Nov. 23. It will meet again Friday night at the restaurant.

Muscular Dystrophy Fund Appeal To Open

Women of the Moose Lodge 642 will distribute cannisters to East Liverpool business places this week as part of the 1959 March for Muscular Dystrophy being conducted on a nationwide scale in November.

Solicitation of city residents is planned this month by various organizations that received campaign instructions from the Cleveland chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc.

Mrs. George Kilmer, lodge recorder, is chairman of the canister distribution phase of the drive in East Liverpool.

Jerry Lewis is national chairman and Mrs. Lou Gehrig is national campaign chairman.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Compliments Lag As Diet Begins

When one has considerable poundage to lose, compliments are a long time in coming, since no weight change is discernable. Many dieters reduce 18 to 20 pounds, only to turn around and regain the weight because no one noticed or praised their efforts.

Ida Jean Kain

Dieters, take heart, with another 5 to 6 pound loss, compliments will come from all directions. The experience of other dieters may help you to stay happily on the course.

"At the beginning of the year I weighed 192 pounds, for 5 feet 5. I was bursting out of size 20. Not until I had lost 20 pounds did anyone notice a change — not even my husband."

—:—

To affect more of a change in her measurements, this reducer began exercising for 20 minutes each morning in front of a mirror, sans clothing, so she could see that the right muscles were being reached. "It's encouraging to see fat layers disappear and firm lithe muscle appear," our reducer explained.

At the time she had reached 152 pounds, a friend asked, "What have you been doing?" When she asked if the change was very noticeable, this was the reply: "Are you kidding? You look 10 years younger."

Note from dietitian: We would like to hear from this dieter again and learn the happy ending to her slimming story.

The experience of another dieter is similar. Her starting weight was 220 pounds for 5 feet 7. After she had lost 20 pounds, not one person had commented on the change. But when she had slimmed down another 5 pounds, suddenly all her friends began paying her compliments.

This dieter reported that after the first 25 pounds are gone, from then on even a 5 pound weight loss makes a rewarding difference.

Many dieters find it helps enormously to keep aiming toward the next smaller dress size. Know the score on sizes. Past size 36 in the women's size range, the average number of pounds between dress sizes is 16 pounds.

—:—

WHEN YOU HAVE a great deal of weight to reduce, however, 16 pounds off may not change your dress size. Slim down 6 to 8 more pounds and you will be able to slip into a dress a full size smaller.

And here's more encouragement: After you have lost part of the excess, the number of pounds between the size you are wearing and the next smaller size diminishes. Instead of 25 pounds, it will be 18 or less pounds. Knowing this can keep you from giving up just when that smaller size dress is within reach.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Perfect Dress Size Chart. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

65 Take Part In Rural Collection For UNICEF

Some 65 children and adults of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church participated in the annual trick-or-treat for UNICEF Wednesday night, covering Glasgow, Hillcrest and the rural areas around the church.

They collected approximately $66 in banks provided by Miss Elizabeth Smith through the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co. They were served cider and doughnuts at the church following the canvass.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester (Bud) Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kornbau, co-chairmen, were assisted by parents and others who provided cars and tractor-pulled wagons.

County Gets $102,627

LISBON — Columbiana County will be paid $102,627 as its share of the second advanced distribution of auto license tag funds for 1959, State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today at Columbus. In addition, the county will be paid $6,698 as its share of the 5 per cent "equalization allotment" of license money. The statewide distribution totaled nearly $11 million.

The ten most widely spoken languages in the world are, in order, Chinese, English, Russian, Hindustani, German, French, Spanish, Japanese, Portugese and Italian.

Youth Group Formed During Newell Meeting

Fifteen attended a rally for youth of the Sunday School of the First Methodist Church of Newell held Sunday night in Fellowship Center to organize a Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Mrs. William Copestick, councilor, said plans were made to hold regular meetings every Sunday night at 6 in Fellowship Center and to meet on two Mondays of each month for recreation.

A nominating committee will be selected to prepare a slate of officers for a future election at this Sunday night's meeting, she said. Mrs. Lloyd Nalley is song leader and Miss Mary Margaret Anderson is pianist.

Aims and purposes of an MYF group were outlined by the Rev. Ellsworth D. Crispens, pastor. The MYF chapter is for persons 12-23.

Hancock Farmer To Be Cited At Soil Conservation Meeting

Shields Mayhew of Pughtown, Hancock County's "Farmer of the Year" for 1959, will be honored along with his wife, Betty, at a Soil Conservation conference in Jacksons Mill Tuesday through Thursday.

Operator of Fairview Farms for four years, Mayhew was winner of the Northern Panhandle Soil Conservation District contest this fall and received a plaque and U. S. Savings Bond.

He is the third generation of Mayhews to work at farming on the 175-acre Fairview Farm in Pughtown — one of the county's most productive tracts.

His father, J. H. Mayhew, received a similar award from the Weirton Kiwanis Club 10 years ago as the county's conservation farmer for 1949. Fairview was one of the demonstration farms for Soil Conservation practices set up by Walter Gumbel almost 30 years ago.

After returning from World War II when he served with the 83rd Division in Europe, Mayhew enrolled in the Veterans Agriculture Training Program for three years and apparently has made the most of his farm training.

Oliver Johnson, county agriculture agent, said "100 bushels of corn, 40 to 50 bushels of wheat and 60 to 75 bushels of oats to the acre are the expected rather than the unusual with the Mayhews."

Some of the soil conservation practices on the Fairview Farm are pasture improvement, concrete watering troughs for livestock, a farm pond, sub-soiling, sodded waterways, crop rotation and contour strip cropping.

The farm produces food for underprivileged men in the County Infirmary near Pughtown. Milk from the farm's dairy herd is sold to the Atkinson Dairy in New Cumberland. The dairy operations take the place of a commercial apple orchard that has been abandoned.

He Has Special Interest In Civil War Centennial

ETTRICK, Va. (AP) — Edward F. Hawks is looking forward to the Civil War Centennial. He has a very special interest in it. As a boy of 5 he stood on a hill above the Appomattox River and saw the battle of the Crater at Petersburg.

He recalls candy given to him by Yankee soldiers. He witnessed Lee's retreat and Grant's advance. Hawks recently observed his 100th birthday.

Police Station Put Under Probe In Gambling Case

BOSTON (AP) — A police official today put the East Boston police station under investigation after U.S. Treasury agents crushed what they called a multimillion-dollar gambling ring allegedly operating in the shadow of that station.

Police Commissioner Leo J. Sullivan ordered the probe after the arrest of 12 persons and the seizure of gambling equipment including 17 automobiles; numbers, horse and dog race booking material; and $20,000 in cash.

Authorities said the automobiles were impounded because they allegedly were used to transport betting slips.

A separate investigation was undertaken by the Internal Revenue Service. Director Frank J. Cavanaugh said the income tax returns of all those arrested will be scanned as well as the returns of other parties.

The Treasury men swooped down on a barroom operated by Sal Bartolo, former featherweight boxing champion, and a vacant store less than 100 yards from the police station.

In addition to the 12 men arrested last Friday, summonses were issued for 100 others.

The dozen men, including Bartolo, were bailed in $2,500 each for appearance in federal court Wednesday on charges of failing to obtain the $50 federal gambling tax stamp.

$200 Given UNICEF

EAST PALESTINE — A total of $200 was collected by Youth Fellowship groups of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches in a Friday and Saturday canvass of homes for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, the Rev. Chalmers Goshorn, chairman, reported.

Eastern Star Sends 5 To Cleveland Meeting

A group of members of Crystal Chapter 18, Order of Eastern Star, left today for Cleveland to attend the 70th annual session of the Grand Chapter of the Ohio Order of Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, worthy patron and matron of the local lodge, Mrs. Beatrice Boughner, associate matron, Mrs. Jennie Mackall, past matron, and Ralph Mackall will attend the three-day event.

A vesper service was held Sunday afternoon in the Cleveland First Methodist Church. Open house honoring past and present grand officers was held Sunday night in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Statler-Hilton.

The Ohio organization has 553 chapters and expects 10,000 delegates to attend the sessions. A large delegation from here will attend the Thursday program.

Youth Unhurt In Crash

TORONTO — Charles Hanes, 17, of Toronto escaped unhurt when his car struck a utility pole along Route 7 a mile north of here about 12:45 a. m. today. Hanes lost control, went off the right side of the highway and struck the pole, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

JUST ANOTHER DAY?

*By "CAL COURIER"

On the calendar, tomorrow is Tuesday and the 3rd of Nov. To some, it's just a day on which public offices close, also taverns and liquor stores. To others, it's ELECTION DAY.

There was a time when Election Day rated high, as important as July 4 or Ma's birthday. That was back when our forebears thought more about sound government than party lines. They spent less time talking politics, more time thinking things out for themselves. They even had the knack of getting to their knees on Election Eve, for guidance. Odd, how TIMES have changed.

Today, we're less likely to count on our Maker in matters so earthly. Instead, our balloting is swayed mostly by back-slapping and curbstone chatter. Else, on issues concerning the town's well-being or future of our kids, we don't vote at all. Odd, how PEOPLE have changed.

Yet, 3 out of 4 of our townfolk are GOOD, down deep inside. They're honest, God-fearing Americans . . . willing to work for their keep, care for their families. They'll even grab a carbine in defense of home and country. Still, too many neglect their No. 1 community duty . . . VOTING.

So, while tomorrow may be just another day to some, it's a day on which Citizenship will be put to test. Only ballots can decide THE PEOPLE'S WILL . . . and, the future of our City. If you are eligible, VOTE. If you're not sure HOW to vote . . .

The Hospital Levy on the Ballot Tomorrow Is Not A New Tax Merely a Renewal of One Now Existing

The original Hospital Building on West Sixth Street was opened to the public early in the year 1905. The first addition on West Fifth Street was erected in 1911, the second in 1931, subsequent additions in 1952, 1954 and 1958.

Since the beginning 283,033 patients have been treated. This is more than five times the population of East Liverpool. During the same period 60,649 major and minor operations were performed.

The charity work in the hospital during this period amounted to $772,102.40.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was amazed at the pig-headedness of the man "Who Thinks for Himself." So he's been married and divorced twice—and all on his own. Does he want a medal?

In the last 10 years I too have been divorced twice but I certainly am not proud of it. It's taken three years of concentrated therapy with a psychiatrist to get back on the track. Even now I'm not sure I'm ready to try marriage again, although I'm confident my chances for succeeding would be far greater.

And the nerve of the man referring to people who write to you as "screwballs." At least they are trying to help themselves.

Cynics who sit in the scorner's seat and knock those of us who are trying to find answers need more help than anyone but they are too stubborn to admit it.—FIGHTING MAD.

-:-

Dear Fighting: Thank you, thank you. I have thought it but you have said it. Bravo!

Hips, Hips Away

Dear Ann: I'm 23, unmarried (but hoping) and 25 pounds overweight. I've heard of the "one food a day diet" which my girl friend swears by. She lost 10 pounds in 10 days. The theory is it's not what you eat but how much that counts. It makes sense to me. What do you think?—HIPPY.

-:-

Dear Hippy: I think it's nonsense. If that "one food a day" is a tub of potato salad you won't lose, you'll gain.

See a doctor. Let him prescribe a diet and stay on it. There's no magic formula for losing weight. It takes work.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Agency Publishes All Nations' Rules On Overseas Gifts

The Cleveland Field Office of the U. S. Department of Commerce said today it has available copies of regulations in all foreign nations covering the mailing of gift packages.

The agency said copies of the regulations may be obtained by sending 10 cents for each publication to: Cleveland Field Office, U. S. Department of Commerce, Federal Reserve Bank Building, Cleveland 1.

Every country has its own regulations concerning the importation of commodities. Special concessions are made for gifts. What can and cannot be sent and the quantites or dollar value admissable without payment of duty are detailed in the series of releases.

Revisions recently have been issued on Burma, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Norway and Yugoslavia. Laws on Brazil, Greece, Israel, Mexico and USSR are expected soon, as are those on many other counties.

The regulations are helpful not only to individuals, but to department and specialty stores catering to purchasers of gifts for overseas shipment, the office said.

18 Given Awards At Irondale's Fete

IRONDAYE — Eighteen masqueraders won cash prizes in the village's annual Halloween observance Saturday night.

Rain forced cancellation of a parade, so participants were judged in Stanton Local High School. About 150 had entered. Each was given a treat donated by the Jefferson County sheriff's office at Steubenville.

A round and square dance for adults followed judging of costumes and movies for youngsters.

Judges were the Rev. John Millhorn, George Martin and Don Paul.

An estimated 225 attended the dance held in the high school gymnasium. The committee for the observance, headed by Fire Chief Oliver Nicholson, included Stanley Frampton, Wilmer Jackson, Mrs. Lola Tolson, Dale Tice, Mayor Quenton Henderson and Jack Tolson.

Joint Meeting Slated For Legion, Auxiliary

The annual joint meeting of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 and its auxiliary will be held tonight at 8 at the post home.

Both will give reports on past accomplishments and finances and discuss several money - raising projects. An executive committee, appointed by Robert Louther, commander, will give a financial report following the meeting.

The auxiliary will report its plans for the annual Veteran's Day dinner Nov. 11 at the post home. The unit will serve lunch and a dance will be held.

Seasonal Fete Attracts 1,500

Some 1,500 attended the fifth annual public Halloween party held Saturday night in Wellsville by the Fraternal Order of Police and the FOP Associates Lodges.

Free noise-makers were distributed at the city square. The costumed participants then marched to the Beacom Memorial Auditorium, where judging was held.

The prize-winners, with first, second and third listed respectively, were Terry Athey, Billy Yost and Kim Corsello, witches; Earl Ward, David Baldwin and Gerald Reed, ghosts; George Bulger and Dwayne Thrasher, Mike Monte and Betsy Welch, most original; Charles Travis, Charles McDowell and Billy J. Lewis, hobo; Kathy Hammond, Patricia Newton and Lee Jenkins, funniest.

Tommy Lewis, Susan Talbott and Nancy Todd, animal; Bruce and Cheryl Gover, Greg Campbell and Mark McEwen, cowboy; Tomy Rose, Chris McNichol and Jimmy Shannon, clown, and Mike Roseberry, Donald Rawlings, Jean Brown and Jeffrey Wheeler, miscellaneous.

All are from Wellsville except Wheeler, who is from East Liverpool.

A dance followed the judging. Professional and amateur entertainment was provided. The party is held each year by the lodges to combat vandalism during Halloween.

City Youths Fined $75 For Cutting TV Wires

Two city youths, one 16 and the other 17, were fined $75 and costs each this morning at Lisbon by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for cutting television lead-in wires of city homes last week.

Apprehended by police, the pair admitted snipping between 35 and 40 lead-in wires. Judge Tobin ordered them to pay the fines at a rate of $10 a week, to observe a 6 p. m. curfew, and to report to Juvenile Officer Chris Pusey weekly until the end of the school term.

The driver's license of one was suspended for 60 days.

Map Of Eskimos

HANOVER, N.H. (UPI) — A map showing the distribution of Eskimos in North America has been completed at Dartmouth College. It shows that many Eskimos have become skilled workars for the U.S. and Canadian governments and that their native settlements are disappearing.

Bike Accident Injures Youth

A Fisher Park youth hurt in a bicycle mishap and an East End boy hurt in a fall from a swing were admitted over the weekend to City Hospital, where 9 youngsters and adults were treated after separate accidents.

Paul Jones, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones of N. Shady Ln. Dr., is in "fairly good" condition today with lacerations and abrasions of the face which he suffered in a bike accident at home. He was admitted Sunday morning at 11.

Arthur Blosser, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Plum of State Line, is in "good" condition with an injury of the left elbow received in an 8-foot fall from a swing near home Saturday.

Victoria Fisher of Wood St., employed at the McAllister Dairy Store in Maplewood, was treated yesterday morning for a cut of the thumb suffered on a meat can.

Linwood Tiyis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Tivis of Arthur Ave., Wellsville, was treated last night for a neck injury received while playing football.

In a fall from a bed, Randall Lawson, 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lawson of Cyrus St., La-Croft, suffered a scalp bruise last night.

Ronnie Davis, 1½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., was treated last night for a cut of the scalp received in a fall.

Charles Goddard, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goddard, 1249 Chaffin St., was treated yesterday for a cut of the lip received while playing.

Phillip Lewis, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Lewis, 1621 Maple Ave., Wellsville, suffered a cut of the toe while at play.

Cynthia Carpenter, 19-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carpenter of Calcutta, was treated Sunday morning for a fracture of the right collarbone suffered in a fall from a wagon at home Friday night.

Charles Tepsic, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tepsic of Summitville, was released Sunday from the hospital, where he was admitted Saturday morning with an injury suffered while playing football.

John D. Smith Jr., 9, of Dixonville was treated Saturday morning for injuries of the right ankle and foot suffered while playing football Friday night at home.

Found: One Sidewalk But Slightly Used

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP) — City officials were surprised when Dalton Carroll called and said he had found a sidewalk. There wasn't one where he said it was, the city officials objected.

Then they started digging, and under a thin layer of dirt and a healthy growth of weeds, they found it. Crews went to work to clear it for use again.

Arrests Total 7 In Probe Of Columbus Police Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I feel sorry for everyone on the Police Department for the beating they're going to have to take," said Columbus Police Chief George Scholer. He meant in possible public scorn and ridicule.

"It's a damn shame that a few men could do so much to embarrass all the good officers . . . for years to come," said City Safety Director Leo L. Phillips.

The comments came Sunday as a mushrooming investigation into looting by policemen had resulted in arrests of seven members of the Columbus force. Two were jailed Thursday, four more Saturday and another Sunday. And the probe is still on.

Department officials said the investigation began more than a month ago following reports that merchandise disappeared during burglary investigations by uniformed patrolmen.

Chief Scholer said there appears to be no "ring" or organization involved, but that most of the seven knew of each other's activities.

With some exceptions, he said, they carried on the looting independently and when the opportunity arose. Such opportunities came about when they found an unlocked door or a business place which already had been forced by burglars, the chief said.

Officials said it has been going on for more than a year.

Scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today to answer burglary and grand larceny charges are Patrolmen William E. Clifford, 34, and William B. Russell, 29. Officials said they have been linked to at least two safe-cracking jobs.

Clifford and Russell were the first to be arrested in the roundup.

Clifford has been on the police force 11 years, and Russell four.

Petit larceny charges were filed Sunday night against Patrolman Edward F. Mulholand, 32, a two-year man on the force.

Others arrested and held for investigation are:

Patrolmen Robert E. Horch, 29; Charles R. Haapala, 29, and Lawrence J. McNulty, 29, and Sgt. James S. Faris, 47, a 17-year man.

Chief Scholer said all but Sgt. Faris have given statements implicating themselves in various offenses.

Geneva Driver Injured In Weekend Crash Here

A Geneva motorist was hospitalized Sunday night with injuries received when his car skidded into an auto driven by a Geneva woman, police reported.

The mishap was one of two reported over the weekend, police said.

Benito R. Guzman, 44, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with a concussion and laceration of the forehead received in the collision shortly before 11 last night at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way.

Guzman told police a car operated by Paulino Salgado, 26, also of Geneva, had stopped for a traffic signal at the intersection when he applied his brakes he skidded on the wet pavement and struck the rear of the Salgado car, Guzman explained.

A crash at 4:24 p. m. Sunday at E. 6th St. and St. Clair Ave. damaged a car operated by Maralyn L. Danley, 1905 Lisbon St., and owned by Joseph M. Winters, 138½ W. 4th St., police said.

Police said the car driven by the Pleasant Heights woman struck a stopped car operated by James McNear, 55, of 411 Persimmon Ln., while she was turning from 7. 6th St. onto St. Clair Ave.

Ohio Farmers Subscribe Twice Allotted Acreage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio farmers were so enthusiastic about the expanded conservation reserve program — permitting them to take cropland out of production for cash — they subscribed for almost twice their allotted acreage.

An Agriculture Department spokesman has reported that 3,887 Ohio farms offered to place 251,640 acres in the conservation reserve beginning next year.

Many of these farmers will be disappointed. The government had only 134,000 acres allotted for Ohio. A priority system will be placed into effect to decide whose applications must be eliminated.

The conservation reserve is a program aimed at reducing surpluses by paying farmers to take land out of production for from three to 10 years. Since 1956, Ohio farmers have placed 346,839 acres in the conservation reserve.

This year, they were permitted to sign up for more at a basic annual payment rate of $19 an acre — a total of more than two million dollars a year.

The oversubscription is going on all over the country at a rate nearly double the acreage goal of 5,100,000 acres.

What will happen is that those farmers who offered to rent their land to the government for less than the basic rate will be chosen before those who bid the maximum.

A department man said many farmers are putting entire farms in the reserve.

The department official was asked why some farmers don't just sell their land and make perhaps a little more money out of it than to draw money from the conservation reserve program.

The official laughed.

"Farmers don't look at things that way," he replied. "Don't ever forget: Farmers like to own land."

Metals Firms Due Shutdown

CLEVELAND (AP)—A survey conducted by Steel Magazine shows that four out of five metalworking plants will close or curtail operations within the next 30 days for lack of steel.

Forty-two per cent of the firms contacted said they have less than a 10-day supply of steel on hand, about 37 per cent said their inventories would last from 10 to 30 days and only 21 per cent said they have stocks sufficient for more than 30 days.

Steel said an estimated 350,000 metalworkers already have been laid off because of steel shortages and the number will increase 40,000 to 50,000 a week for the next several weeks. If steel does not start flowing from the mills by the end of this month the country's huge metalworking industry will come to a virtual halt, it added.

The publication said the steel strike, which started in mid-July, already has cost the steelworkers $1,113,000,000 in wages, the steel companies $3,932,000,000 in sales, the federal government 710 million dollars in taxes. The production loss has been 30,900,000 tons.

Resumption of operations by Kaiser Steel Corp., which signed a contract with the United Steelworkers Union, resulted in a climb of .4 point in steelmaking operations last week to 13.5 per cent of capacity. The output totaled 382,000 ingot tons.

Steel said that when the strike is over it will take the mills at least a month to reach production equal to 90 per cent of capacity and six weeks to attain that rate of shipment.

New Fixtures Bring Glamor To Bathroom

CHICAGO — When the homemaker feels a compelling urge to get something new for the house, a good place to start is in the bathroom because it is here that a truly revolutionary change can be effected.

In fact, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, the best tonic for many American homes is a complete face-lifting of the bathroom.

Because most middle-aged houses still have the original plumbing fixtures, dramatic changes can be made in the bathroom by replacing the outdated equipment with handsome and colorful new fixtures.

It is not only color which will do much to dress up the modernized bathroom, but it is the fact that modern fixtures are made in matched sets with harmonizing designs in the fixtures as well as in the brass trim.

Since the modernizing of the bathroom starts with the fixtures, the first thing to do is to discuss your ideas with an experienced plumbing contractor.

Being thoroughly familiar with the dimensions of the fixtures and various models and sizes, a plumbing contractor can do much to insure the success of any bathroom modernization project.

Borrow $82,000

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University students have borrowed more than $82,000 under the new federal student loan program. A school spokesman said Sunday 242 of Miami's 6,767 students have taken part in the program, which provides loans for schooling of up to $1,000 yearly for five years.

Parker Lynching Case In Spotlight

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP)—The Pearl River grand jury convenes today with the spotlight on the Mack Charles Parker lynch case.

Dist. Atty. Vernon Broom and County Atty. William Stewart have said the grand jury will determine for itself what witnesses it hears.

Circuit Judge Sebe Dale, 62, will oversee the selection of a jury of from 15 to 20 from a venire of 60 male, white Pearl River County men. Twelve votes are needed for indictment.

Dale canceled the spring criminal term after a hooded mob of 10 to 20 pulled Parker from the unguarded Poplarville jail April 25. Nine days later, searchers found Parker's body in the Pearl River ridden with two bullet holes.

2 Ohio Departments To Come Into Existence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two new state departments officially come into existence this week.

The State Personnel Department, with a three-member Personnel Board of Review, replaces the present two-member Civil Service Commission today.

James T. Welsh, a deputy highway director, will head the new department at $14,000 a year.

The Department of Industrial and Economic Development comes into being Wednesday. It replaces a division of the state's Commerce Department.

Koder Collison is the director at $15,000 a year.

Veteran Newsman Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Funeral services will be Wednesday for Edwin Thomas Rice, 68, a Cleveland newspaperman for 50 years, all but four of them for The Plain Dealer. He was the newspaper's picture editor since 1927. Rice died Sunday in a North Olmsted nursing home following an illness of eight months.

NEW IDEAS IN WALL PANELING. Wood wall paneling comes in a variety of patterns and finishes these days. Charm of this living room depends on use of Douglas fir exterior siding as wall paneling. Slightly rough surface of the fir paneling adds much to the textural interest of the walls, contributes to informal atmosphere of the room. Built-ins by fireplace house hi-fi equipment.

New Face For Fireplace

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Want to give your fireplace a new face?

It's easy with some individual touches of wood paneling, brick or stone. There's a mighty do-it-yourself movement in development areas to individualize look - alike fireplaces.

Even if your neighbor also chooses stone, yours can be different.

Varied textures and a wide range of muted colors now are available in lightweight quarried stone. Modern methods of pre - cutting stone thin and in easy-to-handle pieces make limestone, granite, marble and sandstone practical for interior decorative use.

One rainbow-type sandstone blends muted shades of pink, gold and grey. There are shades from charcoal to gold in corrugated and rough effects to smooth surfaces of slate or polished marble.

To those who would like a fireplace in their present home, Frank Tufaro of the Building Stone Institute, says:

"It is not difficult to add a fireplace to a ranch or split - level house, although certain basic cautions must be observed." He offers these suggestions:

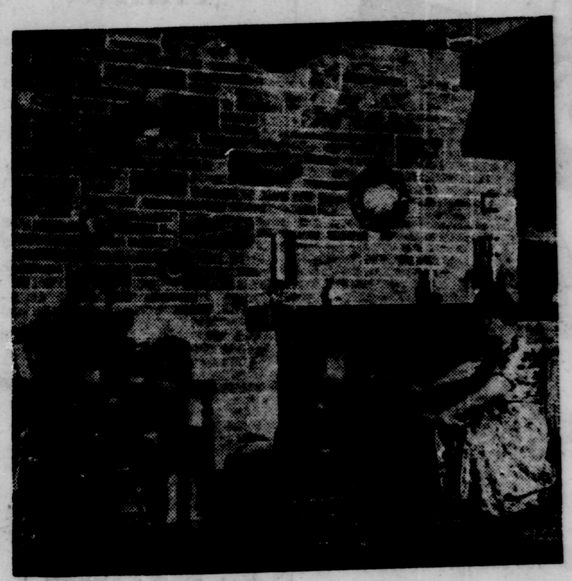
1.—The foundation of the fireplace must be grounded securely in the earth for safety and it is essential that careful attention be given to fulfilling local regulations when flues are constructed, leading to a chimney.

2.—A fireplace should be designed in proportion to the size of the room. The traditional placement of the fireplace as an inviting vista as one enters the room is now alternated by construction of corner fireplaces and side positioning.

3.—The closer the brick work of the fireplace is to the flame, the more it is heated. A small opening is likely to heat more efficiently than a larger one where more heat goes up the chimney.

4.—Windows within the range of vision also tend to detract from enjoyment of the fire. If needed for light, decorators suggest that they be located above the line of vision.

5.—If barbecue equipment is introduced into the family room as an adjunct to the stone fireplace room divider, now popular with homemakers, highly efficient metal hoods may be obtained to conduct smoke safely away from the room.



INFORMAL FAMILY ROOM. Modern methods of pre-cutting stone in easy-to-handle pieces turns this natural stone wall room divider in rainbow hues into decorative focal point.

Cleveland Woman Will Be 102 Tuesday

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Harry N. Hills, 102 years old Tuesday, says "interest in everything" is her formula for long life.

"The less people think about themselves and the more they become interested in the people and the things around them, the more exciting will be their later years," she said at her home in suburban Willowick Sunday night.

"She's interested in practically everything," said Mrs. Hills' sister. "She's not an old lady at all, you know."

$11,000 Fire Damage

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 10-room home of Cuyahoga County Commissioner Henry W. Speeth suffered an estimated $11,000 damage Sunday. A Fire Department official said Speeth's son, Henry Jr., 14, accidentally started the fire in the attic of the 2½-story frame home when he took a lighted candle there to look at some antique guns. The candle's flame ignited some flimsy material hanging from the wall.

Sheriff Reduces Deputy Staff 11, Cuts 8 Cruisers

HAMILTON, hio (AP)—Sheriff Paul Pell has cut his staff of deputies to 11 and pulled eight of his department's 10 cruisers off the road.

The sheriff said earlier he needed $12,000 more for salaries and other expenses for the last two months of the year. Without it, he said, he would lay off 14 deputies. The cuts came Sunday.

The County Commission declined to give Pell the additional appropriation and said Pell was warned several times to keep within his budget.

The sheriff, a Republican, and the Democratic majority on the commission have feuded over money matters since they took office after last fall's elections.

Pell said he is cutting out the department's regular cruiser patrol, traffic control, life squad operations and other activities for November and December.

Ranges of volcanic mountains in the Sahara Desert reach 11,000 feet in height.

Cardinal Tedeschini Dies At Vatican City

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Federico Cardinal Tedeschini, 86, archpriest of St. Peter's Basilica, died early today.

First reports said death was due to an intestinal ailment for which he recently underwent surgery.

He was one of the senior members of the College of Cardinals, having been named a prince of the church by Pope Pius XI in 1933.

His death reduces the college to 71 members. Pope John XXIII increased the college to 74 a year ago.

Tall, handsome and of stately bearing, Cardinal Tedeschini won recognition for his work as the Vatican's nuncio in Spain from 1921 until 1935.

Kennedy Drawing Big Crowds In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy is drawing big crowds in Gov. Edmund Brown's backyard. But he doesn't think other Democrats should tangle with Brown in a California primary election.

"He is a favorite son of a large state," the Massachusetts Democrat told a TV audience of the California governor Sunday.

"Most leaders are reluctant to see a primary divided. He has done an excellent job as governor. He is entitled as a potentially serious candidate to have his state uncontested."

John C. Breckengridge of Kentucky served as vice president of the United States and then joined the Confederate States in the Civil War.

New Thoughts Are Offered In Wall Paneling

PORTLAND, Ore. — Ever since our ancestors took the bear skins off the walls of their abodes, wood paneling has been the favorite wall adornment.

There are paneling styles to suit every taste and finishes are as numerous as the days of the year. Some home owners like paneling which has been brushed lightly with color. Some adhere to the dark, highly-polished woods which graced the homes of earlier eras.

During recent decades, there has been a definite trend towards using straight-grained, creamy beige woods like west coast hemlock or Douglas fir.

Adventuresome architects are even turning houses inside out, using exterior siding as wall paneling. Results have been exciting.

When siding is used inside, rough-sawn western red cedar is usually chosen to embellish the walls of today's sophisticated parlors. Its slightly shaggy surface enriches the textural contrasts of a room, especially when used as a complement to the smooth surfaces of furniture and fabrics.

And siding panels have proven a boon to homemakers who have low upkeep in mind. They find that maintenance consists of an occasional bout with the vacuum: no thoughts of waxing or of future repainting. An original stain coat will last forever.

The cedar panels are cut with a tongue-and-groove to fit snugly without visible joints. Finishes, again, can be any number of things.

For those who are fond of color, tinted stain can be sprayed on the panel boards before installation, but for those who want to capture the rich, ruddy brown hue of this wood, a clear rez does the job.

Some home owners like to emphasize the indoor-outdoor aspect of the siding panels and finish the walls with stain matching that used on the dwelling's exterior siding.

Oftentimes, these sleek, innocent-looking wood walls are chuck full of surprises. Press fingers lightly against a section and it is apt to open up, revealing storage shelves, a television screen, or hi-fi installation.

The fact that storage can be built behind wood walls — and with nary an inkling of its presence showing — is one of the reasons for their continuing popularity.

None Injured As Gas Feeder Line Explodes

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The East Ohio Gas Co.'s main feeder line exploded underground in an open field early today near North Jackson, but there were no fumes touching off a fire or explosion ended within two hours, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

The explosion occurred shortly after 1 a. m. 300 yards north of New Road, and one-half mile east of Ohio 45. The company turned off valves within a hour of the blast. Traffic was rerouted to prevent any further damage from the escaping gas being ignited.

The nearest farm residence was that of G. K. Weimer in the northwest Mahoning County community.

There was no immediately known cause for the blast. Service was not disrupted.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean and smooth the underside of my electric iron?

A. Use some fine steel wool, powdered whiting or pumice. These will polish and smooth the surface without scratching or scoring it. Never use any harsh abrasives for cleaning your iron!

Q. How can I make a stubborn zipper run more smoothly?

A. Try running an ordinary lead pencil up and down the zipper. The graphite in the lead will "lubricate" the parts of the zipper and make it operate more smoothly.

Q. How can I renovate rubber boots or shoes that have become hardened from wetting?

A. You can give them a new look by rubbing them with a sponge that has been dipped into very warm castor oil.

Although "Whiteland" would have been a more appropriate name for the island-continent of Greenland, according to a Scandinavian saga, in A.D. 985, Eric the Red named it Greenland in order to induce colonists from Iceland to settle in the new country.

POWERFUL NEW PLUNGER CLEARS CLOGGED TOILETS in a jiffy!

NEVER AGAIN that sick feeling when your toilet overflows

'TOILAFLEX' Toilet ALL-ANGLE Plunger

Ordinary plungers just don't seat properly. They permit compressed air and water to splash back. Thus you not only have a mess, but you lose the very pressure you need to clear the obstruction!

With "Toilaflex", expressly designed for toilets, no air or water can escape. The full pressure plows through the clogging mass and swishes it down. Can't miss!

- Double-size cup, double-pressure
- Tapered tail gives air-tight fit
- Designed to flex at any angle
- Centers itself, can't skid around

For positive insurance against stuffed toilet, have a "Toilaflex" in your home.

Methods Are Suggested For Cleaning Wallpaper

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Many of the letters we receive ask questions about the removal of spots from wallpaper.

Generally, they are difficult to answer because not enough specific information is given about the nature of the stains and the types of wallpaper.

Not all wallpaper should be cleaned the same way. There are three basic classifications of paper that determine the method of treatment. They are listed as water-resistant, water-sensitive and plastic - treated papers.

—:—

WATER-RESISTANT paper is the kind usually referred to as "washable."

This does not mean that it can be scrubbed with a strong soap. Instead, after first removing loose dirt with a vacuum cleaning attachment, apply a mild soap solution with a cloth or sponge. Use long, free strokes and work upward.

Rinse the paper with clear water, but do not scrub unless the manufacturer clearly says so in his instructions. Sometimes a clean cloth, dipped in dry borax and rubbed over the soiled area, is effective.

Water-sensitive paper is, as the name implies, non-washable. But it can be cleaned in a special way.

If the paper is only slightly soiled, it can be cleaned with stale bread from which the crust has been removed. Rub large pieces of the bread over the paper and, as the bread becomes soiled, fold under to a clean section. Use wide, sweeping strokes and overlap the clean portions.

For larger and more stubborn stains on water-sensitive paper, use a special type of cleaner available in most hardware stores and where wallpaper is sold. This product is similar in substance to putty.

SCRUB IT. Two kinds of wallpaper can be cleaned with careful use of soap and water — water - resistant and plastic - treated papers. Water - sensitive paper is non - washable.

When it is rubbed lightly against the paper, dirt adheres to it. The putty should be constantly kneaded in the hand so that a fresh, clean surface is used. After the paper is cleaned the lose crumbs can be easily brushed off.

—:—

PLASTIC-TREATED paper is either plastic-coated or plastic-impregnated.

In either case, the paper is highly resistant to most kinds of grime, dirt and stains. But should hot fat or grease fall on such paper, it should be wiped off at once to prevent even the possibility of penetration. Most other soiled area, including those marred by pencils or crayons, can be cleaned simply by scrubbing with soap and water or detergent solutions.

How do you know what kind of wallpaper you have? That's something you should determine when you buy the paper.

Look on the backs of samples and you'll see the type specified. Where the wallpaper was already up when you moved in, always make a test in some inconspicuous area.

Rub with a damp cloth and see how the paper stands up under it. If it begins to shred or crumble a little, it's probably water-sensitive paper. If not, it's water-resistant. Plastic-treated paper is apparent to the eye.

Book Lover Dreams Of Paradise

It's hard to appreciate how much schools are doing to encourage children to read for fun. Especially in the elementary grades, children are urged to borrow books from the public library, or to buy them. Although students of the upper grades and high schools often read extra books as part of their required work, many teachers inspire them to read simply for pleasure. How much more effective the school influence would be if children were stimulated at home to read many books and if the parents were also eager, constant readers. Aunt Molly had a dream. In this dream nearly every person of our nation was reading a book—a worthwhile book, a book that had lived for many, many years or would live for years to come.

By Garry Meyers

ALONE IN a room, during leisure hours, or in a family or public library, this person was reading. In homes entire families spent hours reading good books, silently and sometimes to one another. Often there was an older member reading to a child under five, six or seven.

Parents didn't feel they had to hide the books they liked best because of some spicy pornographic paragraph in them. The books they read they hoped their children also might read as early as possible.

In every home were shelves full of good books that were put there because several members of the family either read them or would read them. Friends who dropped in frequently talked about these books and other books they themselves were reading.

—:—

IN EVERY hamlet, town and city there was a public library. The reading rooms were always crowded. Often persons stood waiting for a place, as if in a restaurant.

Adults and children stood in line to speak to the librarian and to borrow books. Sometimes these waiting lines reached to the outside door of the library; occasionally there were long queues outside the library.

Entire families in scattered, remote areas drove for miles to one of these libraries, or to a closer place to meet the bookmobile regularly coming that way.

Children, even in the grades, said they were going to be librarians when they grew up. One of the most popular and best paid professions was that of a librarian. But that was all in Aunt Molly's dream.

My bulletins, "Why Read to Baby and Young Child?" and "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

275 Attend Glenmoor Area Halloween Party

Some 275 attended the community Halloween party in Glenmoor Friday evening at the Hamilton service station at the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd.

Winners of costume judging were Diana Dexter, Elaine Ramer, Susie Wines, Nancy Thayer, Helen Fitch and Ruth Congrove. Diana Dexter also won the grand prize. Cash prizes were given.

Judges included E. H. Chestnut, Joe Arcuragi, Warren Rogers and Stewart Snyder. Treats were given. Music was provided by George Hamilton's Orchestra.

Glenmoor civic groups and others sponsored the event.

QUESTION: We bought an old oak table that never had any finish on it. We would like to stain and varnish it. Is it necessary to use wood filler?

Answer: It has always been a moot point, even among professional wood finishers, whether a filler is necessary on woods with open pores, such as oak. Some contend that it is not possible to get a truly fine finish on oak, mahogany or walnut unless a wood filler is used. Others say that when the pores of a wood are filled, its texture and true natural beauty are destroyed. Thus, it comes down to a matter of personal preference.

QUESTION: I read recently about a new type of floor finish that will outlast varnish. The story said this finish has a urethane base. Can you tell me where I can purchase this floor finish?

Answer: This new finish is being tested in industrial applications only. Before it will be offered for consumer use, certain adustments in the solvent must be thoroughly evaluated. The manufacturers are hopeful that they can get it on the shelves of dealers in six or seven months.

Accidents last year, according to the National Safety Council, killed 91,000 Americans, disabled another nine million,, and cost the nation $12 billion.

Railroads Present Work Plans To 5 Unions Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads today present their controversial proposals for changing work rules to five railroad operating unions representing 210,000 members.

The proposals, which may turn out to be the most disputed in recent labor history, were made public Sunday by the Assn. of American Railroads in advance of presentation to the unions.

The issue about which the proposals center is what the railroads term "featherbedding" — forced payment for work neither done nor needed.

The railroads claim present work rules for operating personnel cost them more than 500 million dollars annually.

Some of the working agreements which the railroads seek to change have been in effect for about 40 years. A three-year moratorium against changing the rules expired Saturday.

The five unions involved are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, The Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Switchmen's Union of North America, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The railroads are presented by the Eastern, Western and Southeastern Carriers Conference committees.

These are the changes proposed by the railroads:

1. Revision of the 40-year-old pay standard, based on mileage, for engine and train crews to reflect increased train speeds.

2. Elimination of rules prohibiting crews from operating through present crew - change points, in order to end multiple changes on short train runs.

3. Erasure of arbitrary lines drawn between the work that may be performed by road crews and yard crews.

4. Establishment of the right for management to determine when firemen should be used on diesel and other non-steam locomotives in freight and yard service.

5. Elimination of all rules which stipulate the number of crew members required.

6. Ending of rules which require idle standby operating employes when self-propelled equipment is used in track maintenance, repair or inspection.

The railroads and three key unions are presently deadlocked in wage negotiations.

2 Europeans Arrested In Spear-Arrow Fight

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)— A European man and woman have been arrested in the Belgian Congo city of Stanleyville after spear and arrow fighting with police which took 20 lives and injured at least 16.

The Europeans are accused of teaching revolutionary techniques to African nationalist leader Patrice Lumumba, who also was arrested. Officials did not identify the Europeans except to say the man was not Belgian.

Columbus Police Probe Stab Death And Delay Of Aid

COLUMBUS, hio (AP)—Police are investigating a stabbing in which, they say, no medical aid was summoned for more than four hours.

The victim, Earl Smallwood, 58, died. His wife of 38 years, Alada Smallwood, 53, is being held for investigation.

Police say she gave this account of events late Saturday night and early Sunday:

Smallwood, a house painter, was absent from home more than five hours. When he returned late Saturday night, he and his wife quarreled over where he'd been.

Mrs. Smallwood was slicing an onion and, as she whirled about to shove her husband away, her six-inch kitchen knife caught him below the collarbone. He fell to the floor.

Believing him to be faking, or perhaps having had something to drink, Mrs. Smallwood went to another room to discuss the matter with her son Bernard, 17.

Then she returned to the kitchen looked at her husband's wound, put a pillow under his head and a blanket over him and went to a phone booth to call another son and her daughter.

They were out, but the son learned from a babysitter of her call and came to the house. He summoned the Fire Department emergency squad about 4 a. m.

Police said the stabbing occurred about 11:30 p. m. and the coroner, Dr. Carl E. Tetirick, said Smallwood probably died about a half-hour later. He ruled it homicide.

Ohio Township Group To Circulate Petitions

Members of a citizens' committee, which is sponsoring borough status for Ohio Township, decided at a meeting Friday evening with the Board of Supervisors to circulate petitions Tuesday near polling locations.

The committee will be divided into teams of two members each and circulate the petitions Wednesday and Thursday to get signatures of those possibly missed Election Day.

The group met in the fire hall. The committee plans to attend the supervisors meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the fire hall. The committee urges all township residents to attend.

Another group of township residents, of the Midland - Fairview Rd., who favor possible future annexation of land to Midland, is planning meetings, including one to be held in the fire hall with all invited to attend.

Church Group Plans Meeting

The United Presbyterian Women's Association will meet Wednesday at 11 a. m. at the Clarkson Presbyterian Church annex for an all-day session, including a cover-dish dinner at noon. Mrs. Mildred Hole will be hostess.

The Clarkson Grange will meet Thursday night at 8 at the Grange Hall with Carl Daiger, master, in charge.

The Session of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church will meet Wednesday night at 8 with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis. The Rev. C. O. Armstrong of Lisbon will be moderator and Mr. Kerry Meiers of Pittsburgh, student pastor, will attend.

Carl Bloor of Salem has moved his trailer home to the former Harmony School lot south of Clarkson, where he will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gibson have returned from a two-week trip to Florida.

Ill with chicken pox are Kimberly Kay Lowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lowers; Gregg Lipp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lipp, and Janice Hole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hole.

Canton Man Returned At Teachers Meeting

Charles G. Andrews, assistant principal of Canton Lincoln High School, was returned as president of the East Central Ohio Teachers Association at the first annual convention Friday in Canton.

Some 4,500 teachers in the six-county area, which includes Columbiana, elected E. R. Malone, superintendent of North Canton schools, as vice president and Mrs. Omega Cain, a high school teacher in Perry Township of Stark County, as recording secretary.

T. C. Knapp, Stark County superintendent, was named as the association's delegate to the executive committee of the Ohio Education Association.

The teachers voted to hold the 1960 convention in Canton on Oct. 28.

The Indian Ocean is entirely located in the Eastern Hemisphere.

Ike Urges Public Spur Demands Of Sound Economy

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Eisenhower today urged the public to flood Congress and his office with demands that America's economy be kept sound.

Eisenhower, warning against the dangers of inflation, called for the demonstration of support in an informal talk at a conference designed to promote economic growth and stabilize living costs.

He told the conference sponsors that one of the greatest helps that the President and Congress get in the handling of great problems is millions of letters and other communications from the public.

Eisenhower called on the sponsors to promote a flood of such communications in the interest of a sound dollar.

That, he added, would be "one of the greatest services you can accomplish for the United States of America."

Eisenhower spoke at a breakfast meeting of representatives of 48 national organizations. The one-day conference was arranged by H. Bruce Palmer, president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.

Scouts To Race Model Autos In 'Pinewood Derby' Nov. 28

The Cherokee Boy Scout District "Pinewood Derby" will be held Nov. 28 at Westgate School and winners will race their model cars in the County Council derby Saturday, Dec. 12, at Lisbon.

The Shawnee District will hold its derby Dec. 5 in Salem and also send winners to the Council derby, Dan Kelly of East Liverpool, Cherokee District public relations officer, said today.

William Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, will be in charge for the Cherokee district, assisted by the neighborhood commissioner's staff.

There will be no charge for entrants in the derbies. Cost of track construction and prizes will be covered by sponsors. Cub packs will race as a unit, not as individuals.

A 32-foot, eight-lane track of masonite construction will be used this year. Some nine trophies will be presented at district and council derbies. Blue ribbons will be awarded to all first place winners, red ribbons to second and white to third in each heat of eight cars.

Entry cards will be presented to all boys who enter. Cub Packs may enter as many boys as desired. Fathers may help construct cars and help to place them on and off the track.

Heats in each district will concontinue until the fastest three cars in the district are left. These three will be given trophies. All first, second and third place heat winners in a district will be elibible to compete in the Council derby—or three racers out of each eight entered.

The Council will hold its fall meeting Saturday at 7 p. m. at Camp McKinley. The annual banquet and election of officers will be held Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Christian Church in Salem. Mothers and wives will be invited.

3 Motorists Fined In Hancock Case

Three motorists issued citations Saturday by Hancock County sheriff's deputies were fined a total of $50 and costs at weekend hearings.

They are Andy Romansky, 44, of Midland, $15 for passing on a blind curve; Charles W. Miller, 46, of Springdale, Pa., $15 for improper passing, and M. A. Coldill, 51, of Bethel Park, Pa., $10 each on two charges of speeding and crashing a stop sign.

The Midland driver and Miller were tried by Squire Arley White of Newell while Coldill appeared before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

The sheriff's office in New Cumberland also reported that John C. Page, 18, of Chester is lodged in county jail today for violation of probation rules. Page was placed on prpbation last month by Judge J. Harold Brennan after being arrested for breaking and entering a Newell restaurant.

Crowd Attends Meeting For Midland Democrats

Midland Council Chambers were reported packed for the traditional pre-election Democratic party rally held Sunday night.

Burgess Eli G. Corak, party chairman, presided. Present were Midland candidates, all Beaver County candidates except District Atty. Richard P. Steward, committeemen, committeewomen, and precinct workers.

Fully qualified by experience and training. Keeping books for a political subdivision, is much different from keeping books for a private concern. Each session of the Ohio State Legislature, either passes new laws or amends existing laws, governing the spending of tax monies. An experienced Township Clerk knows the existing laws and acquaints himself with the new ones as soon as they are enacted. Mr. McIntosh takes three days schooling in Columbus after each session of the State Legislature, where he has all new laws pertaining to Township Government explained to him. Mr. McIntosh is also a member of the Executive Committee of the Ohio State Association of Township Trustees and Clerks, and they are in every session of the Legislature, fighting to preserve Local Self Government, and he would like very much to be re-elected, so he can continue to fight for it. # Mackall's 76-Yard Touchdown Tops Central In Mud, 6-2

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters today awaited the result of this week's Ohio grid poll and expected to be ranked even higher than eighth after their gallant 6-2 victory in the mud over Steubenville Central Saturday night.

It will never be known whether or not the muddy field helped or hindered the Potters but regardless their winning streak now has reached six straight games.

Close to 5,000 hardy umbrella-covered football fans sat in on Saturday's encounter at Steubenville's Harding Stadium.

—:—

THE GRIDIRON was turned into a sea of mud following a heavy afternoon rain. The rain continued throughout the entire game.

The defeat knocked Steubenville Central from the ranks of the undefeated. The Crusaders held ninth place in last week's poll.

Coach Lou Venditti's Potters showed they had a few better "mudders" than Central.

Bob Mackall again was the Potters' ace in the hole. The senior quarterback, muddy turf and all, still showed that burst of speed which broke him loose on a 76-yard gallop with 4:06 remaining in the first quarter for the only touchdown of the game.

Mackall broke through a hole over the right of the Potter line, put on a burst of speed and raced down the north sidelines.

—:—

THREE Central players gave pursuit, with run brushing Mackall's jersey from behind but failing to bring him down as he raced free into the end zone.

A pass from Mackall to Dave Zelch failed for the extra points and that's the way the score stood 6-0 up until 1:17 remaining in the contest.

Steubenville Central scored a safety in the waning minutes of the game when a high pass from center got away from Cookie Goodballet as he attempted to punt out of the end zone.

Goodballet fell on the ball and was swarmed upon by three Central tacklers for the safety.

It was a frustrating night for both teams, with scoring drives halted by fumbles or bad passes from center.

A total of 15 fumbles showed up on the statistics. East Liverpool fumbled eight times and lost the ball on six occasions.

Steubenville showed seven bobbles, with the Potters recovering four of them.

—:—

BECAUSE OF the miserable weather conditions the battle of the two quarterbacks didn't unfold. The rain stopped Joe Polshaw's passing game. The highly-touted quarterback attempted two aerials but failed to complete them.

Polshaw ran on several occasions, but was stopped at the line of scrimmage or thrown for a loss each time.

One of the outstanding performances of the season was turned in by Bruce "Big Mama" Reynolds, the Potters' 240-pound tackle.

Reynolds was all over the field. He recovered two key fumbles in addition to his other play.

His most brilliant play of the game came late in the second quarter when Central attempted to punt on third down. Reynolds came crashing through and shoved a Central defender into the kicker, Tom Erosevich.

The ball bounced off the Crusader defender and Reynolds fell on it giving the Potters possession on the Steubenville 24-yard line.

In the second half, "Big Mama" recovered a fumble on East Liverpool's 11-yard line to stop one scoring threat. Then early in the fourth quarter he jumped on another loose ball at the Potter 47-yard line.

His alertness and all-around play was a big factor in the triumph.

—:—

IT WAS another team victory, however, with the East Liverpool line throwing up another solid defense. Outstanding defensive work was turned in by Ron Prince, Potter left end, who stopped about everything that came his way.

The punting of Cookie Goodballet was another highlight of the Potter victory. Venditti praised Goodballet's work after the game.

With the slippery ball the Potter junior was getting off punts averaging close to 35 and 40 yards each time. It was Goodballet who had to punt the Potters out of trouble more than once from deep in their own territory.

Erosevich, who took care of the punting chores for Central, also did an excellent job.

Outside of fumbles, there wasn't much in the way of statistics as each team chose to punt on third down most of the time.

Steubenville had five first downs and East Liverpool two. The Potters gained a net of 108 yards rushing, while Central had 123.

Central didn't complete a pass, but Mackall tossed one to Prince covering 23 yards, for the only pass completion of the game.

—:—

THE POTTERS were forced to hang on more than once Saturday night. After scoring the first touchdown late in the first quarter, Steubenville came back and marched to the East Liverpool 4-yard line.

The running of Brian Moore and Jerry France featured this drive which ended on the 4 when Polshaw's pitchout was fumbled and Tim Archer jumped on the ball to end the scoring threat.

A 15-yard penalty against the Crusaders on the same play gave East Liverpool possession on its own 24 yard line and the Potters were out of danger.

East Liverpool was given a golden opportunity to score late in the second quarter, after Reynolds blocked the punt to give it the ball on Central's 24-yard line.

Mackall tossed his only pass of the game to Prince who managed to hold on to the ball at the one-yard line even though two Central defenders were there.

This gave East Liverpool a first down on the Central one. On first down, Mackall fumbled but recovered. Then on the next play the ball squirted through Mackall's legs and rolled to the Central 18, where Central recovered.

—:—

CENTRAL dominated the action in the second half. Steubenville had the ball for 30 plays and ground out four first downs, while East Liverpool only ran 17 plays.

The second time Central got its hands on the ball in the second half the Crusaders drove to the East Liverpool 11-yard line where Erosevich fumbled and Reynolds recovered for the Potters.

In the fourth quarter, the Potter defense was forced to stiffen twice.

Midway through the final period three fumbles saw the ball exchanging hands twice in one minute.

Steubenville drove to the Potter six-yard line, but Polshaw fumbled and Craig Burbick was there to recover.

On first down, East Liverpool fumbled on a bad pitchout by Mackall and Central took over on the Potter 14.

After France failed to gain, Polshaw fumbled again and East Liverpool came up with the ball this time on its own 14-yard line.

A 5-yard penalty set the Potters back on their own 7-yard line and in two attempts Mackall moved the ball out to the 13.

With a fourth down situation facing them and 1:17 remaining in the game the Potters attempted to punt, but Gary Montgomery's high pass from center sailed over Goodballet's head and the Potter back fell on the ball for a safety.

Actually the safety turned out to be a break for the Potters. Although they gave up two points, it gave them a chance to boot the ball out of danger from their own 20.

Prince kicked off from the 20 and Central had its last chance after taking over on the Potter 47-yard line.

Central got two running plays and a pass play off as the game ended.

Several hundred fans gathered on the diamond Sunday about 1 a. m. to greet the Potters on their return home from Steubenville.

A large crowd was also on hand earlier Saturday at a "send-off" rally in the diamond.

Newell Nips Salineville For First Victory Of Season, 6-0

Lee Scores From Two Late In Fourth Period

The Newell Vikings came up with their first win of the season in their final appearance before the home fans with a 6-0 victory over Salineville Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

Only two minutes remained in the contest when Fullback Dennis Lee carried over from the two-yard line to tally Newell's second touchdown of the season.

The touchdown came after Salineville punted out of its end zone and a short kick gave Newell the ball on the Indians' 20-yard line.

Newell drove to the 12 and then Lee banged up the middle and was stopped at the two. He went over on the next play.

A placement for the extra point by Tom Woods was blocked.

The first three quarters of the contest saw both teams threatening but never were able to cross the goal line.

The muddy gridiron caused several fumbles which thwarted drives by both squads.

In the second half, Salineville drove to the Newell 13, but a play later Lee intercepted a pass thrown by Ron Giannone.

Newell's other big threat came in the second period when the Vikings drove the Salineville 8, but the drive bogged down and they lost the ball on downs.

The victory left Newell with a 1-6-1 mark while the Indians dropped their fourth in seven outings.

Newell will close its season Saturday at Fairfield-Waterford.

Bulldogs Tally Twice In 4th Quarter To Win

POLAND — Upset last week by Minerva, East Palestine was forced to come from behind with two fourth period tallies to down Poland, 14-8, here Saturday.

George Morris, second leading scorer in the district, went over from the 3 and 2-yard lines for both touchdowns in the final period.

Poland grabbed an 8-0 lead in the second quarter when Bob Ludt hit John Talbott with a 15-yard touchdown pass. Talbott ran for the extra points for an 8-0 margin.

East Palestine drove 85 and 65 yards with Morris climaxing both efforts on short touchdown runs.

The victory was East Palestine's sixth in seven starts.

49ers May Prove Tough To Beat For NFL Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Who's going to stop the San Francisco 49ers, surprising front runners in the National Football League's Western Division?

Detroit management, after the Lions took a 33-7 whipping Sunday, aren't figuring on anyone halting the 49ers, at the top with a 5-1 mark.

Forty-niner Coach Red Hickey concurs.

"The 49ers are good," said Lion coach George Wilson. "They've got the feeling they can win. They're going to be hard to beat."

Edwin Anderson, president of the Detroit club, added in congratulating Hickey:

"You have a real good football team and you should go all the way."

Hickey commented:

"This club just won't be licked. There's nothing they can't do."

That could be an overstatement, but his team did just about everything against the Lions. It took two plays to start the scoring before a crowd of 39,064 in sunny Kezar Stadium.

On the game's second play, halfback J. D. Smith, a 49er sensation all year, broke off right tackle for 73 yards and the first touchdown.

Five minutes later Hugh McElhenny took a 10-yard end zone pass from Y.A. Tittle. After Ken Webb scored the Lions' first touchdown from a yard out, McElhenny, back in action after sitting out three games with a broken hand, took a second quarter screen pass from Tittle and rambled 62 yards to score.

Sword Dancer Vacations After Important Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Sword Dancer, heading for a two-month vacation, today presented an imposing list of credentials to back his candidacy for two of racing's most important titles.

The little chestnut son of Sunglow from Isabel Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade Stable virtually wrapped up horse of the year honors Saturday when he defeated Round Table, defending titleholder, by seven lengths in the $110,600 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct. He is the leading candidate for the 3-year-old championship.

But just in case there is still some doubts among the voters, here are the Dancer's 1959 achievements:

Within a space of five weeks, he has defeated Round Table and Hillsdale, the only other serious challengers for horse of the year. Round Table lost twice to the star 3-year-old. In the 1¼ miles of the Woodward he edged Hillsdale by a nose and Round Table by 1¾ lengths. In the two-mile Gold Cup he turned back Round Table without jockey Eddie Arcaro ever using his whip.

He also is the leading money winner of the year. The $70,790 he earned in the Gold Cup boosted his 1959 bank account to $537,004. Hillsdale, now sidelined, had been No. 1 with $502,090.

His overall record for the year shows 13 starts with eight victories, four seconds and once out of the money.

With Arcaro in the saddle for his eighth Gold Cup triumph, Sword Dancer was clocked in 3:22 1-5. The time was just a second and four-fifths off the American and stake record hung up by Nashua as a 4-year old in 1956.

"There can't be any doubt that he's the horse of the year and he may be the best in a long time," said Arcaro.

Matte Features Buckeye's Win Over Michigan State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Despite Ohio State's not-too-impressive 3-3 over-all and 2-2 Big Ten record, the Bucks can look downward at their next three foes.

Indiana, Iowa and Michigan, opponents of Woody Hayes' crew the next three Saturdays, are deadlocked with Minnesota at 1-3 in the conference race. The Ohio future looks brighter.

The Bucks, a ponderous group the previous four games in which they scored but one touchdown, exploded like a bomb against Michigan State Saturday. A touchdown in each quarter, plus a field goal and three conversions, gave the Bucks a 30-24 conquest.

Tom Matte, newly-crowned first string quarterback, tossed two touchdown passes to Jim Houston and one to Bill Wentz, the first time since 1952 Ohio has scored thrice through the air. Bob Ferguson, in and out of the left halfback spot all year, had a 55-yard touchdown run, reeled off 44 more to set up Dave Kilgore's field goal, and took over as Ohio's leading ground gainer with 303 yards in 40 tries. Fullback Bob White, former howitzer of the offense, has 271 in 86 attempts.

Last year the Bucks defeated Indiana 49-8, but they're not expecting such a margin this time. Indiana has a 1-3 league mark, defeating Illinois 20-0 in the opener, and losing 14-24 to Minnesota, 6-14 to Michigan State, and 13-30 to Northwestern's mighty Wildcats. The Hoosiers smothered Marquette and Nebraska to match Ohio at 3-3 over-all.

While Ohio awaits the Indiana invaders, Bowling Green's Falcons will have an eye this week on Ohio University's trip to Huntington, W. Va., for a tilt with Marshall's Thundering Herd. If Marshall wins or ties, the Bee-Gees will wrap up the Mid-American crown without a struggle. If Ohio wins, the Bobcats get a chance Nov. 21 to tie for the title.

Bowling Green clinched a share of the crown Saturday by blasting Miami 33-16, the first time since the Mid-American was formed in 1947 the Redskins have fallen twice in a season. They lost earlier to Kent State. In nine of the 12 seasons, Miami has been unbeaten.

Wooster, leader in the Ohio Conference with 4-0, the league's lone unblemished record, must get by rugged Muskingum Saturday or surrender the lead to Heidelberg which has a 5-1 finishing mark. John Carroll, with the Presidents' Conference laurels just about wrapped up with 4-0, goes against Western Reserve (2-1) this week. A Carroll win would give the Streaks a certain share of the championship.

Twenty-six games adorn the weekend slate, and 17 are against out-of-state opponents. Saturday the Ohio teams won six and lost four in interstate play, giving them 40 victories, 29 losses and three ties, with a scoring advantage of 1,252 to 954, for the season.

The Saturday schedule:

Bit Ten: Indiana at Ohio State.

Mid-American: Toledo at Miami, Kent State at Western Michigan, Ohio at Marshall.

Ohio Conference: Muskingum at Wooster, Oberlin at Capital, Wittenberg at Ohio Wesleyan, Hiram at Kenyon, Denison at Akron.

Missouri Valley: Cincinnati at Tulsa.

Presidents': John Carroll at Western Reserve, Case Tech at Allegheny.

Non-conference: Wash. & Jeff. at Marietta, Lincoln at Central State, Quantico Marines at Xavier, Detroit at Dayton, Waynesburg at Defiance, Taylor at Ohio Northern, Earlham at Wilmington, Bluffton at Manchester, Bowling Green at Southern Illinois, Heidelberg at Baldwin-Wallace (night), Anderson at Mount Union (night), Ashland at Otterbein (night), New Haven State at Youngstown (night), and Adrian at Findlay (night).

Brown Blasts For 5 Touchdowns In 38-31 Win Over Colts

Falls One Short Of Tying Record

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jimmy Brown finally exploded, jarring Baltimore's world champion Colts out of the Western Conference lead and making Cleveland a contender again in the East as the National Football League races hit the halfway mark.

The 6-2, 228-pound bulldozer mixed speed with power for five touchdowns Sunday, triggering the near-record performance with the longest gain of his pro career—a 70-yard rumble with a pitchout that got Cleveland rolling on a 38-31 victory over the Colts at Baltimore.

The Browns' feared fullback fell one short of tying the NFL record, but is only the third player to score five TDs in a single game. He is the first to do it in eight years.

With Cleveland backing Brown's break-through with a defense that was tough when needed, San Francisco's surprising 49ers leap frogged the Colts into the Western lead with a 33-7 breeze over Detroit. That gave the 49ers, preseason picks for the second division, a 5-1 record to Baltimore's 4-2.

Cleveland's third straight success left the Browns in a second place tie with Philadelphia in the East behind the New York Giants. The Giants (5-1) retained their one-game edge by smacking Green Bay 20-3. Philadelphia worked a 30-23 job on Washington.

The other games went to the two Chicago teams, with the Cardinals walloping Pittsburgh 45-24 and the Bears beating Los Angeles 26-21.

Brown, who has led the NFL in rushing for each of his two campaigns, setting a record with a 1,527 net last season, upped his six-game 1959 total to 737 yards—a 123-yard average.

He carried 32 times and moved 178 yards. His other TDs came on a 17-yard run and three plunges.

Ernie Nevers set the one-game record of six touchdowns wth the Cardinals against the Bears 30 years ago, and Cleveland's Bill Jones matched it, also against the Bears, in 1951.

For all Browns' brilliance, Cleveland had its hands full containing Johnny Unitas, who passed for all four Colt TDs. That gave him 17 scoring passes for the season and stretched his consecutive game record to 31.

The 49ers also won their third in a row, ripping the Lions after a 73-yard scoring run by halfback J. D. Smith on the second play. It was Smith's seventh TD of the season, one less than co-leaders Brown and Philadelphia's Tommy McDonald. Hugh McElhenny, after nursing a broken hand for a month, returned to full-time duty and hauled in a pair of scoring passes from Y. A. Tittle, one on a 62-yard play.

The Giants gave Vince Lombardi a rude homecoming in their first meeting since he left their coaching staff to direct the Packers. Alex Webster scored twice with short bursts—the first set up by a fumble and the other by a pass interference call against the Packers, now 3-3 with their third straight loss. New York's Pat Summerall booted a pair of 49-yard field goals.

The Eagles kept the pace with some stout defense after scoring all their points in the first half, McDonald snaring one of Norm Van Brocklin's two TD passes. The Redskins came alive for 14 points in the final period, but the Eagles held fullback Don Bosseler inches short of the goal on three shots at the line with time running out.

Rookies Bill Stacey and Ken Hall put it away for the Cardinals with a pair of long punt returns in a 21-point second period against the Steelers. Stacey went 59 yards and Hall 84 for a 35-10 lead at the halftime.

The Bears beat the Rams with 19 points in the third quarter, scoring twice within two minutes on a blocked punt and a fumble.

Wildcats Hurdle Indiana For 6th

Undefeated Northwestern and once-beaten Wisconsin try to solve the question of the Big Ten football championship this Saturday at Evanston.

The Wildcats posted their sixth straight victory, 30-13, over Indiana Saturday while Wisconsin escaped from Ann Arbor with a 19-10 win over Michigan.

Purdue and Illinois had title hopes dimmed by their 7-7 tie and Ohio State nipped Michigan State ambitions, 30-24.

Outside the league, Iowa pounded Kansas State 53-0 and Minnesota dumped Vanderbilt 20-6.

Seldom is the Big Ten championship decided before the final week of the season but should Northwestern defeat Wisconsin the Wildcats would then need but one victory in their last two games to seal the issue.

Should Wisconsin stop Northwestern, Illinois would become a key team since the Illini face Wisconsin and Northwestern in their last two games.

Northwestern's ability to score quickly rocked Indiana after the Hoosiers had moved to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. Northwestern tied it in the second period when Ron Burton scored after the Wildcats recovered a fumble and a minute later Burton broke the game open with a 63-yard punt return touchdown.

Fullback Mike Stock took over in the second half with touchdown runs of 28 and 24 yards and a 19-yard field goal. Stock, who played magnificently on defense, finished the day with 18 points.

Wisconsin's interceptions ruined Michigan's homecoming. The Badgers turned interceptions into touchdowns in the first two periods and put the game beyond reach with a field goal in the final quarter.

Saturday's big game will pit Wisconsin's size and power against Northwestern's speed and agility.

Purdue fumbled away two opportunities in the last quarter while Illinois tried to pull the game out in the final seconds on a missed field goal attempt by Gerry Wood.

Quarterback Tom Matte hurled three touchdown passes in Ohio State's victory and Iowa scored 45 points in the first half in smothering Kansas State. Third-string quarterback Joe Salem picked up floundering Minnesota by directing a pair of touchdown drives in the final period.

Aside from the Wisconsin-Northwestern game Saturday, Michigan will be at Illinois, Indiana at Ohio State, Minnesota at Iowa and Purdue at Michigan State.

Two Brothers Qualify For State Finals

East Liverpool qualified two runners for the state cross country meet following the district competition held Saturday at St. Clairsville.

A brother combination of Ron and Don Hildebrand will represent East Liverpool at the state meet next Saturday in Columbus.

Ron finished fifth Saturday while Don was only two places behind in the seventh.

Ron Montgomery placed 19th, but didn't qualify for the state meet.

St. Clairsville won the meet with Marietta second and East Liverpool third. Bellaire finished fourth and Martins Ferry fifth.

Vester (Tennessee) Wright, leading trainer in winning thoroughbred races most of this year, is a former plumber's helper. He is 37 years old and was born in Gallatin, Tenn.

Tigers Edge Mississippi, 7-3

Cannon's 89-Yard Touchdown Run Keeps LSU's Winning Streak Alive

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been a bundle of Mondays since any Eastern college team excluding the service academies had any notions about a national football championship.

But Syracuse and Penn State have 'em today, especially the former, and the hunch is it'll take a strong man to talk down the winner—even granting the obvious claims of Louisiana State, Northwestern and Texas—after these two unbeatens tangle next Saturday.

The big game at University Park, Pa., is the second in a row matching two sectional titans—coming on the heels of defending national champ LSU's 7-3 squeaker over third-ranked Mississippi last Saturday night.

This one tries Syracuse, No. 5 nationally in the last Associated Press weekly poll, and winner of six straight, against Penn State, with a No. 7 national ledger and seven consecutive victories.

Meanwhile, LSU tries to run its winning streak to 20 at tough Tennessee, Northwestern (No. 2) is home to 10th-ranked, once-beaten Wisconsin in the Big Ten showdown, and Texas, ranked fourth, entertains Baylor in another step toward the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl.

"Now we find out if we're a football team," said Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder after the Orange had crushed Pitt 35-0 Saturday. He is still cautious despite statistics that list Syracuse first nationally in both offense and defense.

Their only common foe, West Virginia, fell to the Lions 28-10 last Saturday. Syracuse beat the Mounties 44-0.

There's Orange Bowl, Cotton Bowl and Gator Bowl interest in the game and both—win or lose—might wind up grabbing a spot, just as looms possible for hard-knocking Mississippi despite the loss to LSU.

The 67,000 who roared as All-America Billy Cannon's 89-yard scoring punt return beat Ole Miss after LSU had been outplayed and outgained probably would vote for an LSU-Mississippi rematch in the Sugar Bowl. Neither Syracuse nor Penn State can be considered since each has Negroes on the roster.

That would leave, say, Syracuse for the Cotton Bowl against probably Texas, 7-0 and closing in on the SWC championship after nailing Southern Methodist, 21-0; and perhaps Penn State against the Big Eight nominee in the Orange Bowl.

Northwestern, also 7-0 after turning up a new weekly star in fullback Mike Stock in a 30-13 whipping of Indiana, all but nails the Rose Bowl trip if it beats Wisconsin, 19-10 winner over Michigan. Southern California, ranked sixth nationally and 6-0 after rallying to beat California 14-7, ordinarily would be the foe but the Trojans are ineligible. So it's Washington (6-1) in the lead for the host spot at Pasadena.

Auburn, the nation's No. 8 club, struggled past Florida 6-0 so Mississippi and Georgia Tech, spilled 10-7 by Duke, were the only top ten clubs to lose.

Still, it was a weekend to talk about what with Oklahoma's 13-year, 74-game unbeaten string of Big Eight dominance snapped by Nebraska 25-21; Yale's unscored-on streak and perfect record shattered by thrice-beaten Dartmouth 12-8; and Harvard's 12-0 thumping of unbeaten but once-tied Penn.

North Texas State held its ground in the seven surviving major unbeaten, untied club—joining LSU, Northwestern, Texas, Syracuse, Southern California, and Penn State—with a 12-0 decision over Wichita.

The foot played key roles against the two senior service academies. Monty Stickles' 43-yard field goal with 32 seconds left beat Navy for Notre Dame, 25-22. George Pupich's conversion enabled Air Force to tie Army 13-13 in their first meeting, but his bid for a last-minute game-winning field goal went wide from the 21.

Celtics Still Team To Beat

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics aren't wasting much time informing the seven other clubs in the National Basketball Assn. that they're still the team to beat for the league championship.

Boston, which defeated the Minneapolis Lakers in four straight games to win the playoff finals last season, is off and winging again. The Celts have captured four in a row with the season just two weeks old.

The Celts downed the Cincinnati Royals 124-109 Sunday night after whipping the New York Knicks 123-109 Saturday night. Both of Boston's weekend victories were on the road.

In the only other game played Sunday, the St. Louis Hawks overpowered the Minneapolis Lakers 138-101.

Saturday night's other action saw the Philadelphia Warriors turn back the Detroit Pistons 120-112, the Syracuse Nats down Minneapolis 117-108 and St. Louis beat Cincinnati 109-102.

Boston outscored the Royals 35-24 in the first period Sunday to polish off Cincinnati.

Bill Sharman set the scoring pace with 25 points and Tommy Heinsohn added 22. Jack Twyman topped the Royals with 31 points.

Minneapolis' 37-points drubbing at the hands of St. Louis was the Lakers' worst home setback since they came into the league 13 years ago. The game, which was televised nationally, saw the Hawks hit on 51 of 100 field goal attempts.

Bob Pettit, last season's scoring leader, headed the St. Louis point parade with 28, two less than teammate Cliff Hagan accounted for. Elgin Baylor was high for the Lakers with 27 points.

Grantland Rice Memorial Award Won By Bill Fox

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Fox, veteran sports editor of the Indianapolis News, said Sunday night as he received the annual Grantland Rice Memorial Award that "Granny made a rookie writer feel like a regular."

Fox was awarded the sportsmanship brotherhood's plaque given each year on the anniversary of Rice's birthday for an outstanding example of sports writing in the Rice Tradition.

Many notable sports figures attended the dinner at the Hotel Astor.

Previous award winners were Fred Russell of the Nashville Banner, Red Smith of the New York Herald Tribune, Sec Taylor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, and Frank Graham of the New York Journal-American.

Rebels Notch First Victory

NEW WATERFORD — Paced by the running of fleet halfback Larry Peppel, Fairfield-Waterford celebrated its homecoming with a 48-14 win over Western Reserve here Saturday.

Peppel's touchdowns came on runs of 60, 45 and 30 yards.

The Rebels jumped into a 22-0 lead in the first period and showed a 36-6 margin at halftime.

Joining the touchdown parade for the Rebels were Bender on a 5-yard jaunt, Webber, 49 yards, Chamberlain 40 yards and Mason 3 yards.

Morgan Calhoun, plant superintendent at Yonkers Raceway, says the racing strip at the harness track was worn down seven inches following 115 nights of racing.

Thief

But the thief was more discerning at Locke's, bypassing inexpensive costume jewelry for more expensive pieces, including diamond engagement and fraternal rings.

John Fulmer, operator of Gene's Bar, 115 E. 6th St., told police this morning a 24-x-24-inch window at the rear of the tavern was broken between 1 p. m. Sunday and 6:10 a. m. today.

The thief crawled through the window, broke a door on a juke box and escaped with between $25 and $30 from the coin container, Fulmer said.

Police said a window at Harry's Diner, 734 Dresden Ave., was discovered broken at 4:30 a. m. today, but apparently no entry was made.

Ray Clendenning, operator of a flower store at 135 W. 5th St., reported to police Sunday morning a 6-x-4 foot window was broken between 7 p. m. Saturday and 8:30 a. m. yesterday.

2 Youths Get Sentences For County Auto Thefts

A city youth, charged with auto theft, and a Lisbon area youth, apprehended at Minerva last week in a stolen auto, were sentenced this morning to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon.

Jerry Kent, 17, of E. 3rd St., cited for taking a car and keeping it for two days, was ordered to the Lancaster school until he becomes 18.

John Bagley, also 17, of Logtown, Lisbon, was sentenced to the school until his next birthday. Bagley was charged with the theft of an auto at Salem early Thursday, ditching it at Homeworth where he took a second auto in which he was apprehended by Minerva police.

Judge Tobin said both youths have previous juvenile records.

Names Straightened Out By Post Office

OLYMPIC VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Or Squaw Village, Calif. Or even Tahoe City, Calif. But no Squaw Valley, Calif. At least not on United States mail postmarks.

That's the story from this Sierra site of the 1960 Winter Olympic games.

The post office can't approve the use of a Squaw Valley postmark because another California community has used that name for years, although it no longer has a post office.

So Squaw Valley will be known on the postmarks as Squaw Village. And to help keep things clear, mail from the Olympic Village in the valley will be postmarked Olympic Valley.

The news stories, of course, will be flowing from Squaw Valley.

Ohio Has First Right To Advertise Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As a result of action by the 1959 General Assembly, Ohio has the nation's first "right to advertise" law.

State agencies are prohibited from adopting regulations against truthful, legitimate advertising, and the penalty for false or fraudulent advertising is license suspension.

Four Youths Rob Girl, 17

NEW YORK (AP)—A pretty, 17-year-old white girl returning from a Halloween dance was dragged screaming from her Harlem doorway early Sunday and carried to a nearby building where she was raped, beaten and robbed by four Negro teen-agers.

The four boys were arrested as they ran out of the building minutes after the attack.

The victim, Sandra Burrell, told police she and a girl friend encountered the boys while leaving a subway station after attending a Halloween dance in midtown.

She said one of the boys admonished the others to leave Sandra alone, and offered to walk her home. When they got to her home, she said, he walked away and she rang her doorbell.

"While I was waiting for my mother to answer, I saw the four boys walk toward me. They told me to be quiet or they'd kill me. One in a gray sweater put his arm around my neck and started dragging me across the street."

An unidentified witness saw the boys drag the girl into a nearby building, and called police. By the time police arrived, one boy had raped her in a hallway and the others on the rooftop, choking her and beating her head against a wall when she screamed.

They took her pocketbook and ran down a stairway—into the arms of two patrolmen.

Police found the girl semiconscious on the roof. She was taken to Knickerbocker Hospital.

Those arrested were James Super, 19, a clerk; James Harris, 16, a high school student; Harold Butler, 16, a student and Harold Ford, 18, a messenger.

Super and Harris were held in $10,000 bail each. Butler and Ford were held in $5,000 bail each. All were charged with rape.

$70 In Prizes Given At Party

Over 300 Midland youngsters received treats and were judged for costumes at a Halloween party Saturday evening, sponsored by American Legion Post 481.

Because of rain, the Lincoln High School band did not march in a planned parade and Halloweeners went directly to the Serbian National Home.

Some $70 in cash prizes for costumes were given. According to Donald E. Roach, chairman of the committee in charge, winners included Kimberly and Diane Lozzi, Debbie.Stuben, Kathy Daniels, Debra and Nadine Dobomester.

Bill and Barbara Marcum, Nadine Vojnovich, Terry D'Angelo, Diana L. Tepsic, George Westlake, Rebecca Liberatore, Jim Masters, Yvonne Vranes, Rebecca Craik, Pete Pekich, Arthur Sipe, Bobby and Mark Vranes, and Joe Goddard. The "Strikers" received the prize for the largest group.

Roach said that those who did not claim prizes may get them after Tuesday at the Midland News office. Numbers must be presented, he said.

Judges included Mrs. Lester Barr, Mrs. Paul Rice Jr., Mrs. Lester Trainer Jr., Mrs. Raymond Tepsic, Mrs. John Shovlin and Mrs. Edward Cilli. Woodrow Jones was a committee member, assisting Roach.

200 Attend Dance At Midland Center

About 200 attended the 4th annual Jack O'Lantern Ball of the Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center Saturday night in quarters in the Borough Building.

Entertainment included vocals by Paul Laughlin of Fairview, and the DeVilles, a vocal group brought by Stan Scott of television station, WSTV at Steubenville.

Pumpkin pies were given to Dave Muns and Sandy Zapsic. The annual UNICEF donation was made. The center will be open each Friday evening through November. The next definitely-scheduled event will be the Thanksgiving Dance Nov. 27.

Mrs. William Spisak is director.

100 Humans And 39 Burros Make Up Town

STRANG, Neb. (AP) — This southeast Nebraska community has a population of 100 humans and 39 Mexican burros.

The animals belong to Lowell Messman, who brought a pair of burros for his sons four years ago and was amazed at the interest aroused when the pair produced a colt.

"It got me to thinking about raising burros to sell," he explains, with the result that what started out as a sort of hobby has become what Messman describes as an "unprofitable but highly interesting little business."

Civil War Type Gun 'Made From Scratch'

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — Arthur Williams and William Schuster, whose hobby is building and reconditioning historical firearms, have constructed a Civil War type cannon from scratch.

With no blueprnts available, Williams, with caliper in hand, measured the cannon in a park here. The casting, shaping and drilling of the brass weapon were done at a foundry.

The cannon shoots accurately at 100 yards.

Milk Contract Let For County Home

LISBON — The Select Dairies of Salem and Alliance has been awarded a contract for the supply of pasteurized milk for table use at the Columbiana County Home, county commissioners announced today.

The dairy's bid of 5¾ cents for a half-pint also included agreement to supply a milk cooler for the home until one is obtained.

Supt. Russell Phillis said the home uses about 30 gallons of milk daily. On the recommendation of County Sanitarian Harry Stockdale, the half-pint servings will be placed on the tables in cardboard containers unopened.

Other firms submitting bids were Golden Star Dairy of East Liverpool, 6¾ cents; Purity Dairy of Salem, 6¼ cents, and Vernon Dell Dairy of East Liverpool, 6½ cents, for half pints.

McAllister Dairy Farms and the others submitted bids for gallon and quart supplies, but McAllister did not bid on the half pints.

Reformation Service Attracts 190 From City

Approximately 190 East Liverpool Protestants attended a Reformation Sunday service yesterday afternoon at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The Ministerial Association sponsored the observance. Dr. John Calvin Reid, senior minister of the First United Presbyterian Church at Mt. Lebanon, was speaker.

The order of worship was adapted from the Strasbourg Liturgy of 1537-1539. The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the host church presided. The Trinity Choir sang.

Output In Pakistan's Jute Mills Up By 40%

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Production of Pakistan's jute mills has increased 40 per cent this year, according to the nation's jute king.

G. M. Adamjee of Dacca in East Pakistan added that production would go up further by the end of 1959. He said new markets have been found in Australia and New Zealand.

Official figures show 1958 production as 1,721,000 tons.

It's False Bluff

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Earl Galbraith, 12, got into a squabble with a schoolmate who threatened: "I'll knock your teeth down your throat." "You'd better not," answered Galbraith. "My daddy won't like that because my teeth cost $600." His adversary walked away.

Two Children Trapped As Plane Rams House

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A jet F104 starfighter crashed broadside into a house near here today. Two small children are believed trapped in the wreckage.

Their mother, Mrs. Grace Shoup, 35, was seriously burned.

The pilot, Maj. James W. Bradbury, 34, ejected at low altitude and was reported safe.

The house, a converted brick school building, is located about eight miles south of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base where Maj. Bradbury is director of flight and all-weather operations in the field's operations branch.

Runaway Statistic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new runway for jet bombers and aerial refueling planes at the Strategic Air Command's Lockbourne base here has enough concrete to pave a four-lane highway, 27 inches thick, from Columbus to Chicago. That's more than 300 miles.

Switch In Site Aids Cranwood In Crowds, Betting

CLEVELAND (AP)—A switch of its running race program to the larger ThistleDown track helped Cranwood show increases over 1958 in both attendance and betting in the 44-day meeting that ended Saturday.

Cranwood had an attendance of 175,471 and a betting total of $13,165,517. This compared with 165,521 customers who bet a total of $11,275,689 during the 44-day meeting last year. Attendance was up six per cent, and total mutuel handle nearly 17 per cent.

Ascot Park near Akron was the only other of the four running race tracks close to the Cleveland area to show gains over 1958. Both Randall Park and ThistleDown were under 1958 figures on total handle by 5.5 and 3.8 per cent, respectively. Ascot was up one per cent.

Together the four tracks had a handle of $64,785,507 for 176 days of racing, compared with $64,538,256 in 176 days last year.

Snead, Ford Tie For Golf Honors

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—Sam Snead and Doug Ford finished in a four-under par tie and dominated a field of American and British players in the $7,500 Eldorado Country Club Pro-Member Golf Tournament.

The tournament was a prelude to the 13th biennial Ryder Cup matches between Great Britain and the United States next Friday and Saturday.

Snead, captain of the U.S. team, shot his second straight 69 Sunday while teammate Ford came in with a 67, the best score of the day. Par was 72 the first day but it was knocked down to 71 for the final round.

Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, Fla., and Ford, playing out of Crystal River, Fla., finished at 138, three strokes ahead of Scotland's Eric Brown, and earned $675 apiece. Brown got $525.

Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., and Harry Weetman of England were next, a stroke back of Brown.

281 Killed In Alps

ROME (AP)—At least 281 persons died climbing in the Alps this year. Foolhardiness of amateur mountaineers once more was described as a main reason. Sudden weather changes were another factor. Last year 283 were killed. The record is 383 in 1957.

The American Indians did not have horses before the arrival of Europeans upon this continent. Dogs were the only animals which the North American natives had subdued to any considerable degree of tractability and domestication. Officials Deny 'Frills'

Commissioners Answer Criticism Of Home Issue

County commissioners issued a statement today in answer to "misrepresentations" and "false statements" which they said have been leveled against the $989,000 bond issue for construction of a new County Home that voters will act upon at the polls Tuesday.

The statement, emphasizing that the new building will have no "frills," was signed by R. Max Gard, chairman, and Frank C. Wilson.

Their statement follows:

"In view of some of the misrepresentations and false statements that have been made in reference to the County Home proposal, we feel obliged to explain and clarify some points for the taxpayers. Some of these misrepresentations and false statements have been made by a few for apparently purely selfish reasons. Some of these points are:

"No definite plans have been submitted and approved for the new home. One dollar has been charged for a set of preliminary plans since it was necessary to have something to arrive at an estimated cost. These plans are, however, purely preliminary, very general and not necessarily the plans that will be ultimately used.

"We agree that the new home should be kept simple, without frills or luxurious aspects, but yet adequate, efficient and comfortable and the cost will be kept to a minimum with an eye to the future.

"Fancy barber shops, beauty parlors and things of this nature have never entered our minds.

"We too are interested in saving taxpayers as much money as possible since we also are taxpayers.

"It must be pointed out that many of the people living there pay part of their own way through Social Security benefits and old-age pensions, which are paid to the county. Also, some of these people are able to do some work at the home.

"This is a matter which should not become a political issue. We are dealing with the welfare of our elder citizens who are human beings and who are entitled to the same dignity as you and I. It is everyone's moral and legal responsibility to see that they are properly provided for.

"It is hard to believe that anyone making even the most casual inspection of the present home could fail to agree that to attempt to repair it to meet all the state building and fire standards would be a flagrant waste of the taxpayers' money, unless, of course, these people were motivated by strictly political or selfish reasons.

"Even if we were forced to attempt to repair the present facilities, the cost of these repairs would be so great that it too would require a bond issue to finance. It has been estimated that to replace the plumbing facilities alone would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 and this is only one item of the overall repair needed to bring the building up to state specifications. No amount of repairs would prevent it from being a fire trap where helpless people may be sacrificed as a result of false economy.

"To set the record straight, if the voters approve the County Home bond issue, we propose to name a representative citizens' committee to study different new homes in counties of comparable size and to come up with a plan to fit our needs. Thus, the public will be assured of no needless extravagance in the construction.

"We could, of course, nonchalantly ignore the conditions at the home as past administrations have done and let it continue to deteriorate. The fact remains that we have an order from the State Building Department that we must do something with the plumbing. Another thing that we must do is keep the building up, according to state standards and specifications. In repairing private residences, one can make alterations to suit oneself. This is not so in the case of public buildings and institutions.

"We hope that this will answer the questions brought forth in this issue. Any repairs made would be very expensive and only temporary. Furthermore, it will be only a matter of a very short time until we will be forced to build a new home. Why delay it? We urge you to support the County Home bond issue at the polls tomorrow."

Hit-And-Run Terrorism

Algerian National Revolt Now In Its Sixth Year

ALGIERS (AP) — The Algerian nationalist rebellion against French rule began its sixth year Sunday with the usual daily hit-and-run terrorism and French military operations in the mist-shrouded mountains.

Terrorist attacks killed 4 persons and wounded 39 at various points in the North African territory. Military casualties were not announced. But the daily average, according to French figures, is about 80 rebels killed or captured, and 10 killed and 50 wounded in the French forces.

The long for peace was great among Algeria's one million Europeans and nine million Moslems. But peace seemed far away in the atmosphere of suspicion, fear and despair.

Rebels struck in bands and individually in Algiers and other cities Sunday.

Terrorists threw bombs and grenades into cafes and crowded streets, let loose with machinegun fure, derailed a train 25 miles south of Algiers and cut high tension wires near Sidi Aissa.

The semi-official French News Agency said about 250,000 persons have been killed, injured or imprisoned since the rebellion broke out Nov. 1, 1954.

The agency gave this breakdown: 120,000 rebels killed, 60,000 taken prisoner; 10,000 French soldiers killed, 22,000 wounded; 1,700 European civilians killed, 4,500 wounded, 300 missing; 12,000 Moslem civilians killed, 9,000 wounded, 10,000 missing.

The French government only three days ago gave assurance to worried Europeans and their Moslem collaborators that France would not abandon the territory or engage in political negotiations with the rebels.

President Charles de Gaulle has promised a free referendum in Algeria within four years after peace is restored and offered three possible choices—integration with France, home rule under the protection of France or independence.

Lisbon Area Motorist Given Fine, Jail Term

LISBON — Walter M. Shellito, 53, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail at a hearing Sunday before Mayor John Todd on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He also was fined $25 and costs for lack of a driver's license.

Three others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear for scheduled hearings. They are:

Joseph A. Fani, 20, of Hopwood, Pa., $10, crossing a yellow line; Wyman J. Davis, 24, of Ashtabula, $5, no muffler, and Bert H. Malone, 35, of Georgetown, Pa., $15, passing at an intersection. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

One Of Lisbon Voting Precincts Is Changed

LISBON — One change in the voting precincts here has been announced by Ray Hempstead, Village clerk. Southeast voters will cast their ballots Tuesday at the Lewis Chevrolet Garage on S. Jefferson St., instead of the Lehman Brothers Garage on E. Washington St.

Other locations are:

Southwest — Keslar Appliance, Lincoln Ave.; Northeast A — McKinley School; Northwest A — Lincoln School; Northeast B — City Hall; Northwest B — porch of American Legion Home on W. Lincoln Way.

The three Center Township polls remain the same:

North Center West — kitchen of American Legion home; North Center East — Dunlap Garage, and South Center — Tolson's Garage.

Polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m., Hempstead said.

Editor-Executive Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—David F. Brittle, 59, an editor and advertising executive of the National Coal Assn. for 10 years, died Saturday. Brittle, who was born at Pittsburgh, was a writer with The Associated Press in Washington and Atlanta from 1923 to 1929.

Beaten And Nude Body Of Woman Found In Barn

ATHENS, Ala. (AP)—The beaten and nearly nude body of a 62-year-old farm woman was found in a barn Sunday night. Her mother, badly beaten but alive was found in the farm house.

The body of Dicie Boyd, clad only in socks and one shoe, was found by neighbors who investigated screams. Coroner Bill Bennett said a preliminary examination indicated she had been raped.

Sheriff B.M. Butler said Miss Boyd had been beaten about the head, her neck was cut on both sides, and she appeared to have been choked. A bloodstained plank was found near the body. A bloodstained pocket knife was found in the barn.

Her mother, Mrs. W.T. Boyd, 88, was found slumped in a rocking chair, bleeding from head lacerations. She was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

Butler quoted Mrs. Boyd as saying her daughter had gone to the barn to milk cows when a Negro came to the house and demanded money.
